

GRADE CROSSING WORK MAY COST $400,000

A Two Story Addition is to be Made to the Firehouse in Lincoln Street

Engineer R. T. Wheeler of the Boston & Maine and New York, New Haven and Hartford railroads is busily engaged in preparing plans for the proposed grade crossing at the North station in Middlesex street. It is not expected that work will be started this year, for there is considerable to be done before the work of grading is reached.

Engineer Wheeler has had considerable experience in that particular line of work as he had general supervision of the construction of the Lincoln street crossing. The plans have not been made public, but it is presumed, the railroad station will be moved back some distance. The city of Lowell which is to pay a certain portion of the cost of work will also draw plans and when the city and the railroad companies come to some agreement, their plans will be submitted to the railroad commissioners and work will be begun. It is estimated that the cost of the crossing will be between $300,000 and $400,000, and at least one year will be required to do the job.

Addition to Fire House

An addition is soon to be built to the fire house in Lincoln street. The addition is to be two stories high, 12x22 feet. The lower floor will be used for the apparatus, while on the second floor will be six individual sleeping rooms, a sitting room, a kitchen and bath. Bids for the foundation of the building are now open and will close tomorrow morning. The other part of the work will be done by the department.

Will Cost $800

Robert Campbell was this morning given a permit for alteration to his property at 41 Sixth street, which will consist of the changing over of a barn into a dwelling house. The estimated cost being $800. H. W. Leitch has taken out a permit for a dwelling house of seven rooms, pantry and bath, 24x31 feet at 11 Root street, the estimated cost being $2300.

SHOTS FIRED AT CLINTON POLICE AND STRIKERS CLASH SEVERAL INJURED DURING TROUBLE

CLINTON, June 3.—Seven persons, including two women, were wounded during a battle between the police and a band of striking Lancaster mill weavers here today. The police were compelled to use their revolvers, while the strikers hurled bricks and stones at the officers. One man, a Greek, whose name is not known, is seriously injured and his wounds may prove fatal. In the opinion of the attending physician, the battle-ground was the yard of the Roman Catholic church of Our Lady of the Rosary on Cameron street and the conflict was precipitated by an alleged attempt on the part of the strike pickets to prevent a woman returning to work at the mills. Strikers who took part in the affray were principally Greeks and Germans. It is alleged that a Greek striker interfered with a woman on her way to work. The woman's screams brought a policeman to her assistance but the officer was roughly handled by a crowd of strikers. A large band of police was rushed to the scene.

The strikers took up a position on the top of a slope in the church yard and maintained a continuous bombardment with bricks and stones. Their aim generally was good and many an officer was painfully hurt. The officers charged up the hill twice but each time were driven back by a shower of stones. Finally the police drew their revolvers and fired a volley into the air but this demonstration did not appear to alarm the strikers. Then the officers leveled their weapons at the strikers and charged up the hill a third time, a few shots being fired on the way.

This movement was successful and the weavers were driven through the church grounds to Oak street and thence to the further side of what is known as the Acre district.

As the police retraced their steps through the church yard they came upon the prostrate figure of a Greek weaver who had been shot in the leg.

It was reported that others of the strikers had been injured but the police were not able to substantiate the rumor.

The police numbered between 30 and 40 men while the number of aggressive strikers was much greater. The police went on guard at the mill gate at 5:20 o'clock this morning but the only demonstration near the factory came about six o'clock when the strikers came down Chestnut street to look over the situation. There was no trouble, however, and the strikers marched up to Cameron street, where the night with the police occurred about 6:20.

The strike of 400 weavers began on May 1 and was called to enforce a demand for the reinstatement of a discharged industrial worker, of the World leader, a ten per cent advance in the wages of all weavers and a change in certain shop conditions. This strike came only ten days after the settlement of a strike of a month's duration. Today only about 100 of the 2,300 operatives reported at the mills at the opening hour.

HARRIMAN A WITNESS AT DARROW TRIAL

Franklin to be Asked About Money Received

LOS ANGELES, June 3.—Various sums of money received by Bert Franklin while engaged as a detective for the McNamara defense were expected to be inquired into when the trial of Clarence S. Darrow, accused of jury bribing, was resumed this afternoon after a two days' recess.

Chief Counsel Earl Rogers began the cross examination of Franklin late Friday afternoon and had questioned the witness as to several amounts received by him from the McNamara defense attorneys when adjournment came.

It was stated today that the subpoenas for Job Harriman and Leona Davis were issued at the request of the district attorney about three weeks ago. Harriman had been in Chicago for several weeks and through a strange coincidence he was present in court for the first time on Friday when Franklin brought his name into his story of the alleged bribery of George N. Lockwood. A few moments afterward he was served with subpoena to appear as a witness for the state.

The regular session will be opened tomorrow with an address by Mrs. Carrie Manning of Templeton and remarks by the state president, Mrs. Henry Costello Mulligan. Reports of officers and committees will be heard.

STRIKE TALK ENDED GREEKS WILL RETURN

Agent Wadleigh Makes No Concessions But Will Take Back as Many as He Can

The alleged danger of a general strike which existed mainly in the imagination has been set aside.

Supt. Welch did not know exactly what the strike talk amounted to and in order to ascertain he called to his office Saturday night a representative of the Greeks and Agent Wadleigh of the Merrimack mills in which the strike existed.

Agent Wadleigh stated his position clearly and emphatically. The operatives left their places and he had to keep his mill running. He got others to fill places thus made vacant, but not all the places were filled. Supt. Welch asked him if he would take back the strikers without discrimination on condition that all other demands would be dropped. He replied in the affirmative, stating that he had offered to do so before, but that he could not discharge any of those employed to fill the places of those who went out. He would and then places so far as he could. This proposition was reported to the strikers and a majority of it is understood were willing to return. They will be given work as soon as places can be found for them in the Merrimack and other mills.

Some of the strikers returned and those who did not held a meeting at 1. W. W. hall at 10:30 o'clock where they were addressed by Secretary Murphy of the board of trade. Mr. Murphy advised them to return to work and said that he would do what he could to have places found for all who were on strike. Supt. Welch stated that if any attempt were made to force a strike and anything serious should happen, the leaders who have been planning the strike and keeping up the trouble would be held responsible and locked up. It is probable that the strikers will return as soon as places are found for them.

During the meeting this morning all the speakers urged the strikers to return.

At 1 o'clock, Mr. Murphy, and Dr. Demopoulos took the strikers to the Merrimack where they were met by Supt. Wadleigh and all his overseers. There was a large number in the vicinity but a squad of police in charge of Sgt. Maguire maintained order. The overseers selected those whom they could place and Dr. Demopoulos was told to have others there tomorrow morning.

STORY OF VICTORY OF FEDERALS DENIED

Cuban Congress May Repeal Morua Law

HAVANA, June 3.—The government had no further news from the front this morning beyond the report that the damage done by the rebels in sacking and burning La Maya had been exaggerated in earlier advices. The railroad station, a temporary wooden building and a few thatched houses were burned, the loss not exceeding a few thousand dollars.

It is now denied that General Mondetta gave the rebels 24 hours in which to surrender.

The story of a government victory near Palma Soriano last Wednesday when many rebels were said to have been slaughtered by artillery fire, now also proves to have been false. It originated in the fact that the mountain guns shelled a position supposed to be occupied by the rebels and where the government troops later investigating found traces of blood.

It is rumored that a resolution will be presented in congress this afternoon abrogating the Morua law, which prohibits the formation of political parties on racial lines. Opposition to this law is responsible for the present negro rebellion, according to its leaders.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

Trinity Sunday was observed in St. John's church yesterday. The masses were celebrated by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Schofield. At 9:30 a high mass was sung which opened the forty hours devotion, and 17 girls and 25 boys received their first holy communion. The children were in charge of Sister Mary Amy and Sister Juliana of Notre Dame Academy, who have charge of the Sunday school. Sister Superior of the convent was also present. Rev. Fr. Schofield spoke to the children of the importance of the occasion and also asked them to remember in their prayers the good sisters of Notre Dame who gave their time in preparing them for the holy sacrament, to also remember their good parents, and the day they received their first communion as the most happy day of their lives. Blaise's mass was sung by the choir. The members of the Choral society made their first public appearance and showed that they accomplished good work in a short time under the direction of James A. Murphy. The solos of the mass were taken by Misses Clara McCoy, Gertrude Quigley, and Mrs. George O'Neill.

Miss Quigley presided at the organ. At the conclusion of the mass a procession in honor of the forty hours devotion took place. All the children taking part. The procession was made up of the children, with Leo McManey as cross bearer, followed by the boys and girls of the Sunday school, first communion boys and girls, followed by the flower strewers, who wore beautiful wreaths and red sashes. The leader was Julia Sweeney, and her companions were Ruth Monahan, Florence Welch, Stella Mallory, Helen Quigley, Mary Finnegan, and Mary Welch; candle bearers, James Duley and John Valentine, censor bearer, John Sweeney, followed by Rev. Fr. Schofield carrying the blessed sacrament. During the procession the choir sang "Pange Lingua" and "Tantum Ergo" after which the blessed sacrament was exposed. The church was visited by many worshippers during the day.

Two masses were celebrated this morning, the 5:30 mass by Rev. Fr. Schofield while the high mass was sung at 7:30 by Rev. Fr. Doherty. At each mass a large number approached the altar for holy communion.

Devotions in honor of the feast of Corpus Christi will be held in the church Thursday evening at 7:30, after which a meeting of the parishioners will take place to make arrangements for the parish picnic.

The usual Friday devotion will take place Friday morning, mass to be celebrated at 7:30 while the devotions in the evening will take place at the same hour.

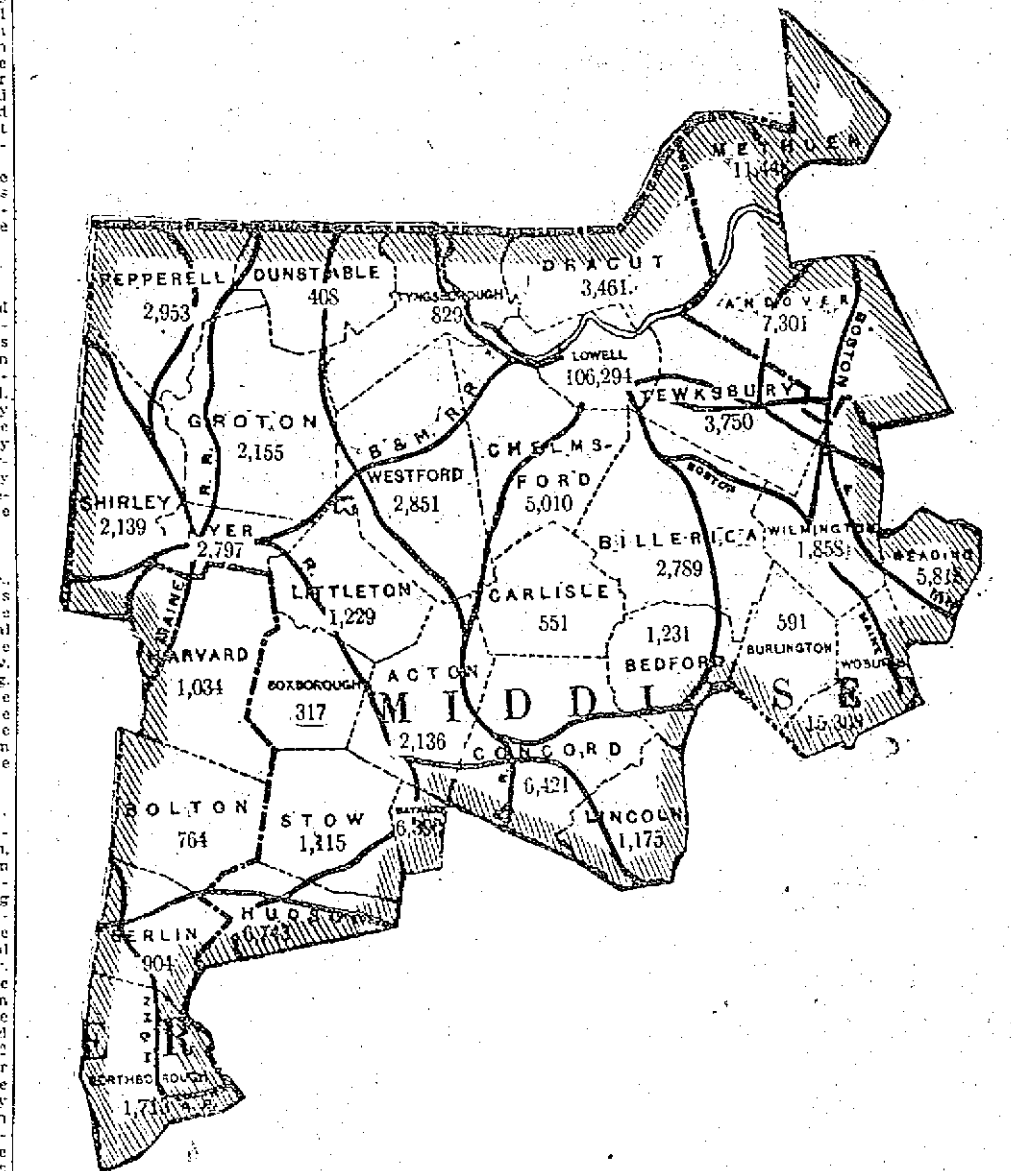

Owing to the exposition of the blessed sacrament yesterday there was no session of the Sunday school. The blessing of the relics was given at 3:30 by Rev. Fr. Schofield.

THE LORIMER CASE WILL COME UP IN THE SENATE TOMORROW

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The fight over Senator Lorimer's election will come up in the senate tomorrow when Senator Kern, leading the forces which seek to unseat the Illinois senator will make the first speech in what promises to be at least a two weeks' debate.

The majority of the members of the investigating committee have reported that the charge that Mr. Lorimer's election was brought about by bribery and corruption has not been proved. Senator Dillingham, chairman of the committee, will lead the defense and support the contention that the senate having once exonerated him cannot try him again on practically the same charges. Senator Lorimer arrived here today from Chicago. He declined to answer directly when asked if he had any intention of resigning and when asked about the reported poll of the senate which is said to be against him, replied he knew nothing of it. The senator said he expected to speak in his defense.

THEATRE VOYONS

Today, Tuesday and Wednesday the Theatre Voyons will at the request of its patrons present "The Coming of Columbus." It will be presented with complete musical and mechanical effects and in a way second to none. The vital events in the life of the great discoverer who gave a new world to civilization are reproduced with photographic accuracy the great events of history is an achievement to be numbered among the most remarkable pictures of up-to-date science. In these remarkable pictures Columbus lives and breathes and moves. He pleads his cause at the feet of Ferdinand and Isabella. In the accompaniment of an admiral of Spain he stands upon the quarterdeck of the Santa Maria and leads his fleet of three caravels westward from Palos across an unknown sea. He quells a mutiny in unexplored waters. He sees his captain die and faces the weather side of his high-pooped little vessel. You see his hands move, you see his hands beat the air in eloquent gesture. You see the glint and sparkle of his eye. You see his face deep in thought or irradiated with the inspiration of the dream that led him on. The Columbus of the pictures is alive. It is as if the camera had reached back into the past by some occult power and visualized scenes forever departed. The making of these wonderful pictures occupied three years. The greater part of this time was taken up in gathering data concerning the life of Columbus to insure historical accuracy in every detail. William N. Selig, president of the Selig Polyscope company, spared no expense in working out this masterpiece. He sent a committee of scholars to Spain. These men spent months digging among the dusty archives of Madrid, Salamanca, Cordova and Seville. They brought to light many new facts about Columbus. Of interest to all Catholics and to the world-at-large is the fact that the films already have been presented before Pope Pius X. who enjoyed the pictures hugely and sent his blessing and a medal to Mr. Selig by Father Tonello. It is the first time the pope ever gave his official approval to a commercial enterprise. "It is rather hard at certain times," Father Tonello wrote in describing his interview with the pope, "to obtain a private audience, but through a dear friend of mine I received a letter of invitation to be at the Vatican at 12 o'clock sharp on a certain day. The day before I had invited several priests, ladies and gentlemen, among these the sisters of the pope, to see the films on the screen. The Sala Paoletti or Sala Pia was well packed, and the history of the great discoverer with all his hardships, joys and sorrows, was viewed by the greatest interest and enthusiasm. The private secretary of the pope, Monsignor Piselli, and the Monsignor Lippini, who were sitting at my side, were particularly impressed, and in occasional bursts of enthusiasm whispered, 'Oh, how lovely! How grand!' At the end of the exhibition the audience gave a viva for Mr. Selig. The next day at noon sharp I passed through the main hall where the pope gives public audiences and was at the door of the pope's private apartments. Brother Damaso, the director of the Sala Pia, had preceded me and had told the pope of the success of the exhibition. When I entered the room I found his holiness standing by a kind of cabinet, picking from it some small articles containing medals. 'Come in, my son,' he said. 'I was just looking for some nice suitable gift for your Mr. Selig. Then he showed me a little silver medal bearing his own likeness. This is not pretty, dear son,' he said. 'Never mind, your holiness, this is all right for me,' I answered. He gave it to me, with three other smaller ones which I dared not ask for, seeing how good he was to me. Then he said, 'I have something better for Mr. Selig.' He crossed the room, went to another cabinet and got another beautiful medal in a red plush case. 'Now this is for Mr. Selig,' he said. 'All this was done before I presented the reels. Then the pope bade me sit down by his desk. When I had given him the reels the holy father examined the small pictures. He had been informed by Brother Damaso and others how beautiful they were on the screen. Then he turned to Brother Damaso. 'He was there, and giving the reels to him for the Sala Pia, said, 'You will have a big show now,' and smiled happily. 'We talked awhile about the splendid exhibition of the Coming of Columbus.' Then the pope said: 'You will please extend my thanks and congratulations to Mr. Selig, and my wishes for the greatest success of this "Coming of Columbus." I wish to encourage him to make other films of such historic and moral value. 'As I knew that the holy father had forbidden all priests to go to moving picture shows, owing to many irreverent and immoral films exhibited in Rome, I told him that the censorship in America was much more strict, especially in regard to immoral and irreverent subjects. He was very glad to hear this and said: 'It is my great desire that this great invention should become a school of truth, of high education, of morality, of social and domestic virtues, and of real benefit to humanity and religion. 'After a few words about other matters I knelt down to ask his blessing for me, my family and my many friends. He waited patiently until I was through my list, blessed all of them, and said: 'Tell Mr. Selig that I bless him, his family and his work. I left with the impression that I had been conversing with a saint.'

ROGERS HALL PUPILS ATTENDED HIGH ST. CHURCH

Sermon on "Let No Man Despise Thy Youth" Delivered by Rev. A. C. Ferrin

At the High Street Congregational church, Sunday morning, Rev. Allan Conant Ferrin preached from the text, "Let no man despise thy youth." Besides his congregation there were present the students of the Rogers' Hall school. The preacher said in part: "This is the young woman's age, the young man's age, as none other has ever been. So much so that this junction, 'Let no man despise thy youth,' seems at first superficial. The rights of youth are clearly understood. In the former days youth was overshadowed by maturity and old age. Today it sometimes seems to be the reverse. In those earlier days it was a difficult matter for youth to obtain a hearing—it must wait till the years brought it. Today it has a hearing so soon it begins to find expression for personality. In these days the son was known by the name and achievements of his father and the daughter by those of her mother. Now the elders are often known by their children. It may be that this is sometimes without wise discrimination, that experi-

SUITS FOR $390,000 AGAINST WHITE STAR As Result of the Titanic Disaster

LAFORTE, Ind., June 3.—Damage suits aggregating $390,000 will be filed by Indiana attorneys within a few days against the White Star Line Steamship company for deaths occurring in the Titanic disaster. The suits, which are to be started at the instance of Bulgarian and Russian authorities in this country, will be in charge of Paul Glazer of Gary, Ind., and some of them will be filed in Indiana and others in Chicago courts. The reason for distributing the cases is for the purpose of quicker action. The Russian and Bulgarian consuls in Chicago have 39 people for whom suits will be brought. In each case the damage asked will be $10,000. One of the points for the plaintiffs will be the inadequacy of the life saving devices with which the ship was equipped. The company is preparing to fight all cases where bodies have not been recovered on the ground that there is no absolute proof of death.

ARRANGEMENTS ARE MADE FOR REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

The Big Coliseum in Chicago Has a Seating Capacity of 11,188

CHICAGO, June 3.—For the third time since its erection, 13 years ago, the doors of the Coliseum will be thrown open June 18 for the accommodation of a republican national convention. In 1904 the republicans nominated Col. Theodore Roosevelt for president in this building and in 1908 under the same roof William H. Taft was chosen as the party's standard bearer.

The coliseum is an Wabash avenue between 15th and 16th streets, less than a mile from the centre of Chicago's retail shopping and hotel district and is accessible from all parts of the city by elevated roads and surface lines. The coliseum is 305 feet long, 170 feet wide and 70 feet in height, built of stone, brick, steel and concrete and is fireproof.

It stands on the site of the old library which was brought to Chicago from Richmond, Va., in sections and rebuilt the year of the world's fair by Charles F. Gunther and used to exhibit a valuable collection of Civil war relics. It is of modern Romanesque combined with the English Castellar type of architecture and cost $500,000. It has been the scene of many notable assemblages. It has 11 large exits and can be emptied in five minutes in an emergency.

The sub-committee on arrangements of the republican national committee under the direction of Mr. Harry S. New has expended $10,000 preparing the building for this year's national convention of the republican party. The building has 11,188 seats of which 7955 are on the main floor and 3233 in the balcony.

The speaker's platform is built against the south wall of the structure and extends across the entire width of the building. It is 75 feet deep and contains 1922 seats, which will be occupied by the chairman, officers of the convention, members of the national committee and distinguished guests.

The seats back of the chairman's table will be slightly elevated. Directly beneath the chairman's table is a space for four noiseless telegraph instruments and their operators, by which news of the convention's proceedings will be flashed to the world. On both sides and extending in a half circle around the front of the platform are seats and tables for 400 working

All That Is Earthly Is Subject to Pain

—Hing Solomon.
The victims of Rheumatism all tell the same story: they have sore, inflamed muscles and stiff, aching joints; they have no ambition or strength, and are nervous and irritable, which is not to be wondered at. We realize how much they suffer.

Nurito, a prescription free from Opium and Alcohol, will banish all aches and pains, and liberate you from sore and inflamed muscles, or your money will be refunded.

We realize that there are worthless and dangerous remedies which are sold as cure-alls by the help of manufactured testimonials, whose object is to extract gold. Nurito's purpose is to give relief, and is compounded exclusively as a specific remedy for those who suffer from Rheumatism, Sciatica or Neuritis.

Convince yourself. Go to Riker-Jaynes drug store today, get a 1 box of Nurito, the remedy that produces results. You can feel it working. Compounded by the Magistral Chemical Company, Flatiron Bldg., N. Y.

DRY COLD STORAGE

FOR

FUR AND CLOTHING

The care of valuable furs during the summer months is a source of much anxiety. Moth balls, paper bags, cedar chests, may keep moths away, but they won't destroy moth eggs or worms already in the fur, prevent fires or frighten burglars.

Our modern dry cold storage methods absolutely secure furs and clothing against all losses during the summer.

Don't let others store your furs in closets and rooms lined with tar paper, but bring them to us and we will put them in cold storage for the summer.

The only store doing a cold storage business in Lowell. Call up our fur storage department and have our team call for your furs.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Observed by Capt. and
Mrs. Thompson

Capt. and Mrs. J. B. Thompson celebrated the 55th anniversary of their marriage yesterday in an informal manner at their home, 170 Appleton street. During the afternoon and evening scores of friends of the happy couple called to offer congratulations.

Capt. Thompson has a war record which any veteran might well be proud of. At the battle of Fair Oaks he was up in a tree reconnoitering for the regiment when a cannon ball struck the tree, snapping it off near the base and he fell a distance of 20 feet to the ground. He was temporarily stunned by the fall and for several months afterwards was unable to perform his duties, but in the summer of 1862 he began to suffer from the fall and came back to this city on a furlough. He returned to the army again but subsequently had to resign his commission because of physical disability.

Capt. Thompson was born in Newport, N. H., in 1831. At the age of eight his parents being dead, he had to look out for himself. After working on farms in New Hampshire for several years he went to Lawrence and learned the trade of a millwright. There he married Mrs. Thompson in 1854 and five years later they moved to Lowell, where they have resided ever since.

POLICE FOOLED

THEY ANSWERED HURRY CALL
THAT LED THEM TO CEMETERY

CHICAGO, June 3.—Send police and doctors quick as you can, there are a lot of people dead at 4845 Southport avenue. This was the startling message received over the telephone by Sergt. Buckley at the Sheffield avenue police station.

The sergeant immediately ordered out the reserves and ambulance corps and summoned several doctors and private ambulances in addition to the regular police medical department. It was a long run of 31 blocks. The trip was made on record time. With gongs ringing, the heavily loaded wagons dashed down Diversy boulevard. Street cars were held at crossings so as not to block the wild flight of the rescuers. The doctors and nurses in the swaying wagons were preparing bandages and assorting their instruments.

Finally the procession turned into Southport avenue. The drivers looked at the number on the corner of a high brick wall which runs for many blocks. It was 4845, and the beginning of Graceland cemetery.

SPECIAL SERVICES HELD IN CATHOLIC CHURCHES

Trinity Sunday Was Observed— Forty Hours' Devotion Closed

Yesterday in all the Catholic churches, Trinity Sunday, marking the close of the paschal season, was observed. As yesterday was the close of the season for Catholics to comply with the church regulation of making the Easter duty large numbers of communicants were present at all masses. In St. Patrick's church first communion was given to a large number of children. At the Immaculate Conception, the closing services of the Forty Hours' devotion were held. The "Holy Hour" services at St. Peter's will be held one week later this month.

St. Patrick's
Several hundred children, the girls attired in white dresses and the boys in dark suits, approached the altar railing at the 7 o'clock mass at St. Patrick's church yesterday and received their first communion. The mass was sung by Right Rev. William O'Brien, P. R. and he was assisted in giving communion by Rev. Joseph Curtin.

On Wednesday, Bishop Anderson will come to Lowell and administer the sacrament of confirmation to a number of children at St. Patrick's. The high mass at 11 o'clock was celebrated by Rev. Timothy Callahan and Fr. Curtin preached the sermon and read the announcements.

St. Peter's
Rev. W. George Mollin celebrated high mass at St. Peter's church yesterday and the sermon on the significance of the day, the feast of the Holy Trinity, was delivered by Rev. Daniel J. Kellher, Ph. D.
The "Holy Hour" services this month will be held one week from next Friday evening on account of the novena in honor of the Sacred Heart which opens on Friday evening, June 14th. The Immaculate Conception Society will hold a meeting on Friday evening, June 14th.

110,000 MEN ARE IDLE IN LONDON DOCK STRIKE

Many Non-Unionists Want to Take the Strikers' Places on the Docks

LONDON, June 3.—It was estimated that 110,000 men were idle today along the Thames and Medway rivers. These include dockers, carmen, scamen, firemen and members of the builders' trades. This is a considerable increase as many union men joined their striking comrades during the weekend.

On the other hand, however, there were more men working than was the case on Saturday. The applications from non-unionists being more numerous the strikers placed additional pickets on duty. The sailors and firemen's union had not less than 200 men busy to see that members of the union arriving on the incoming steamers immediately went out. In some places applicants for work have been roughly treated by these pickets.

With the exception of the dockers all strikers are now receiving strike pay. The position of the dockers is becoming very serious. Pawnbrokers are refusing to accept further pledges and unless the strike is speedily ended it will mean semi-starvation for many residents of the riverside.

GANG OF COUNTERFEITERS HATCHED A PLOT TO KILL

Secret Service Chief Flynn and Judge Ray Are the Marked Men

NEW YORK, June 3.—Behind the bars of the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., several members of the Lupo Morello gang of counterfeiters and murderers have hatched a plot to assassinate William J. Flynn, chief of the local division of the secret service, who ran the counterfeiters to bay, and Judge George Ray of the district court, who sentenced the coiners to terms of from 14 to 15 years at hard labor. One of the Sicilians told of the plot, which was hatched last December, when two Sicilians, who visited Ignazio Lupo, known as "the wolf" were told to kill the secret service chief.

Even while the trial of this gang of counterfeiters was going on Judge Ray received a threat of death at his home in Chenango county in a letter which read:

"If Lupo, Morello and their companions are not liberated you will die like a dog. We have killed better men than you or Smith or Flynn."

The Smith referred to was Abel I. Smith, the assistant United States attorney who prosecuted the counterfeiters.

Chief Flynn said today that he knew that his gang, which knows who killed Detective Petrosino, was one of the worst of its kind in the country.

Chief Flynn said that the Lupo gang had decreed in Atlanta prison the death of certain Italians and that three had been killed.

TWO MEN KILLED WHEN AIRSHIP FELL

Man in Charge Was an Experienced Operator

BREMEN, Germany, June 3.—Albert Buchtaetter, one of the best known of the German aviators, and his passenger, Lieut. Stille of the German Army, were killed yesterday, when their monoplane plunged to the ground just after starting on the northwest aviation circuit of 425 miles.

The monoplane was taking a curve preparatory to straightening out for the long journey when the accident occurred. Apparently the aviator over-backed his machine. The monoplane dropped so heavily that it was half buried in the earth and had to be saved apart before the bodies of the men could be extricated.

Fifteen professional aviators with members of the Army Aviation corps as passengers had entered the contest, but when the accident occurred the circuit was abandoned. Buchtaetter was a experienced aviator who had made several notable flights during 1911.

MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD BY M. U. ODD FELLOWS

Members of the Four Local Lodges Attended Eliot Church

Manchester Unity lodges of Odd Fellows paid tribute to their departed members by holding a memorial service at the Eliot Congregational church yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance, and a feature of the service was a history of the founding of the order which was presented and delivered by Rev. E. Victor Higelow, pastor of the church.

The services opened at 2 o'clock, a section of the church being reserved for the members of the four local lodges of the order. A male chorus, made up of members, sang "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name," to the old English tune of "Dilem," a particularly inspiring number. Rev. M. B. Lytle, pastor of St. Paul's M. E. church, gave the prayer, and a double male quartet sang "Remember Me, O Mighty." The reading of the scripture was by Rev. Mr. Lytle, following which Fred M. Silk sang "Face to Face." Then came the roll call of the dead, six brothers having died this past year. "Nearer My God, to Thee" was sung by the congregation. The address of Rev. E. Victor Higelow, pastor of the church, followed. He said in part:

"One hundred years ago a seed of human good sprouted in Manchester, England, and it has been growing into a great tree, bearing abundant fruit in many lands of the earth. The Manchester Unity of Odd Fellowship has come to include over 1,000,000 persons in all parts of the English-speaking world, and its substance has grown into a treasury balance of more than $75,000,000, making it the richest friendly society ever known to exist."

"To account for this most successful rise of the order one must look to the principles of it and to the personal traits of its members. Common English manhood forms the bulk of the society, imbued with the spirit of adventure which crosses seas, settling new homes in all lands. And yet that manhood possesses a strong sense of loyalty, retaining a fondness for the old homeland, cherishing fellowship that binds all distant brothers back to the ancestral home. One of its principal benefits arises from the custom of assisting those who need help during sickness or when death visits members. This appeals especially to the thrift of the English."

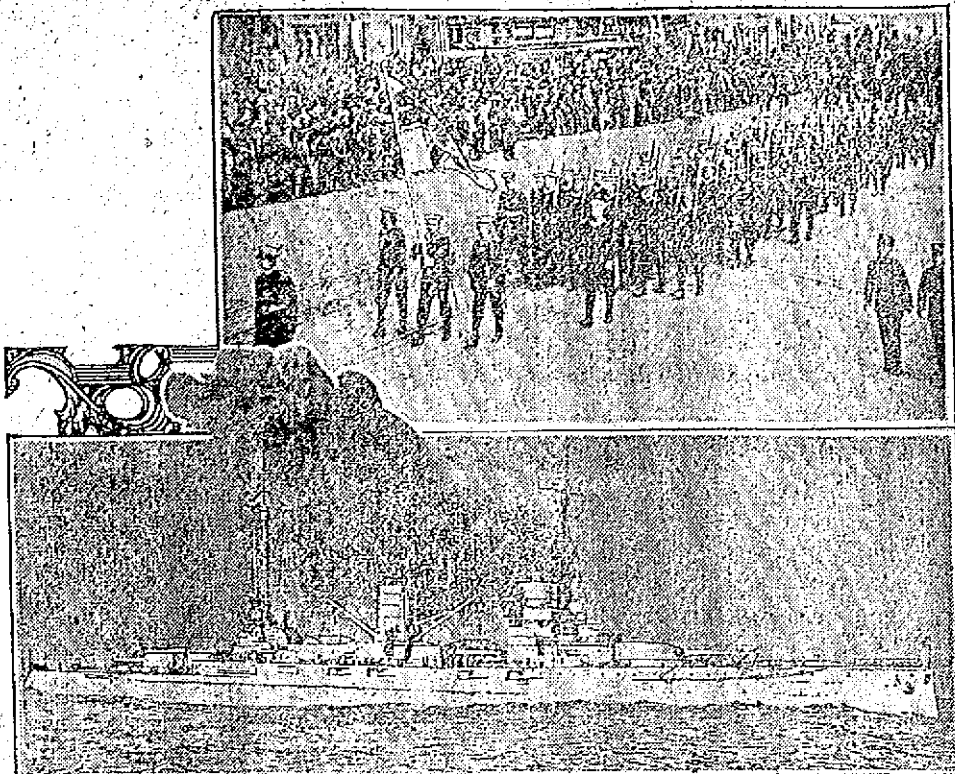

"The constitution is founded upon the cardinal principles of all social existence. The value of this ideal will justify further study and admiration. The name, Manchester Unity of Odd Fellows, is an intellectual puzzle. What can be meant by a unity of odd fellows? We must accept it to mean a departure from the conventions of life, to resist every restraint of classification. It is a declaration of independence. And to be proud of it means 'diffidence of dissent.' What is it? The actual origin of the name is lost in obscurity. I like to think it must have been used to express a strange habit of breaking from the common habit of self regard, for too often the common law of life is 'every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost.' It was very natural to call men odd fellows who departed from this practice. A separation from which leads men to the higher union of brotherhood, which overreaches all of the enmities of men, and is the ideal of this order. Particularly successful has the Manchester Unity been in uniting the members of the order, all over the world. Superior business genius has welded all of the lodges together, holding them to the parent lodge in Manchester."

"The cardinal principles are friendship, love and truth. Friendship is the invisible tie which binds men together for helpful service. It helps the weak, holds them up, and helps the unfortunate forward. It calls into use another more vital virtue, love, which rises from the heart of man. Truth ties together brothers, not only in mutual loyalty, but also attaches them to principles of sincere and honest living, which are in the constitution of life itself. Eventually it attaches men to the father of all truth, who is the center of the universe."

"Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" was sung by the double quartet, and then came the salutation in silence, a portion of the ceremonial of the order. "Lord, Kindly Light" was sung, and the services closed with the benediction given by Rev. Mr. Lytle.

P. O. J. Everett of Winnet Lodge was chairman of the exercises. F. M. Silk was secretary of the general committee, and J. Buchanan was treasurer.

Kaiser's Big Compliment to America in Sending Battleship Cruiser Moltke to American Waters

UPPER—GERMAN SAILORS MARCHING IN AMERICAN CITY. LOWER—THE MOLTKE

It may be doubted that Americans generally, outside of official circles, know or appreciate the high compliment the Kaiser has paid them in sending the battleship cruiser Moltke to visit American waters. The development of the German navy, being the object nearest and dearest to the imperial heart and the Moltke being the pride of the German navy, it follows that the dispatch of the Moltke is evidence of very deep friendliness on the part of the emperor. Let's all hope that no American officer or any one else will recede at a banquet "Hoch der Kaiser" or any other satirical verse, as happened on a certain memorable occasion several years ago. The visit of the Moltke, with two smaller cruisers, the Bremen and the Stettin, is intended primarily as a return courtesy for the visits of American warships to Germany.

It is hard to avoid saying, so let it be said—the Moltke is "some ship." In the first place she is one of the fastest of the world's big warships. In her trial trip, made a few months ago, she registered almost thirty knots, a record for ships of her class. The class is itself a new one, the "battleship cruiser," a type of tremendously swift and powerful vessels.

The British navy has only a few vessels to compare with the Moltke, and the American navy none at all. For the armored cruisers North Carolina, Washington and others of their class, fighting power, number in crew, etc., how big she is may be ascertained from a comparison of her tonnage with the greatest of American ships. She displaces 21,632 tons, which is nearly 3000 in excess of the Delaware and North Dakota and only 133 less than that of the Utah and the Florida, the pride of the Yankee navy. The battleships Texas and New York will be, when completed, only 4000 tons bigger than the Moltke. The Wyoming and Arkansas, also under construction, will displace 26,000 tons each.

So there is reason for the statement that the Moltke will attract the admiring attention of American naval men from the time she arrives in American waters, on June 3, until her departure ten days later. Official Washington prepared to welcome the Moltke, her sister ships in the squadron, the Stettin and the Bremen, and their 2900 officers and men (1000 of them on the Moltke) with receptions by President Taft, dinners, etc. The Germans have planned to visit Mount Vernon, Annapolis, New York and other places of interest.

The Stettin and the Bremen, although fine specimens of the newer cruisers of the German navy, seem almost like tenders for their gigantic sister. The Bremen is 2350 tons burden and the Stettin 3450. The former is regularly stationed in West Indian waters, to look after German interests in the Caribbean sea.

The Kaiser and his people have been frank in asserting that they want the Americans to notice the Moltke and her companions. Nothing should interfere, they believe, with the attention paid to the splendid "battleship cruiser," so they have timed the departure of the vessels to take place before the assembling of the republican national convention.

New York, with a century-old reputation for hospitality to uphold, has outdone itself, it seems, in preparing for the visit of the German officers and men. Probably never before in the history of the city has so large and eminent a reception committee been named to welcome distinguished guests. At the head of the citizens' committee named by Mayor Gaynor is former Mayor Seth Low, well known in Germany by reason of his educational civic and social activities. Other eminent members of the committee who will look to the reception and entertainment of the German sailors while they are in America's greatest port are Andrew Carnegie, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Gen. Horace Porter, Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, Admiral Leutze, Gen. T. H. Bliss, Collector Loeb, Gen. James Grant Wilson, J. P. Morgan, Jr., Jacob H. Schiff and Peter C. B. Widener. The list might be extended much further, for virtually every one of note in the metropolis is included. If the Germans leave American shores dissatisfied with their reception it will not be because time, money and energy have been spared in the effort to make their visit a wonderful success.

Reading the list of Germans to be entertained in America is almost like taking pages out of the Almanach de Gotha, the official guide to European nobility. Commanding the squadron is Rear Admiral von Reuber-Paschwitz, who was formerly naval attaché in Washington and has made a name for himself among American naval officers as an all round good fellow. The commander of the Moltke is Ritter von Mann Edler von Tischler. The Stettin is commanded by Captain Zenker, and his first officer is Baron Senereens-Grancy. Included

BIG ADVANCE IN PRICE OF ALL MEAT PRODUCTS

Cost of Living is Higher This Month Than Ever Before It is Reported

NEW YORK, June 3.—It costs more to live in this month of June, 1912, than ever before in the history of the United States, except, perhaps, during war times. Prices were high a year ago, but today they are on the average nearly 10 per cent. higher, according to trade authority quotations. Food products are the highest on record. Meat, eggs, butter, fish, potatoes, coffee, tea, sugar, salt, molasses, rice, beans and peas average 22 per cent. higher, wheat, corn, oats, barley, flour, etc. 33 per cent. higher. Fruits are the only things good to eat that have grown cheaper during the last 12 months but they are still higher than in 1910. Leather products cost 12 per cent. and chemicals and drugs 13 per cent. more than a year ago. Textile goods, however, are a trifle cheaper.

The average increase in food products is nearly 20 per cent., which means that the housewife must pay $6 to fill a market basket that only cost her $5 to fill in June, 1911. In other words $1 will only buy five-sixths as much as it did a year ago.

The biggest advances have been in meat products—beef 29 per cent.; hog products 40 per cent. and mutton over 50 per cent. Dealers lay the increase to last year's poor hay crop and the general high cost of animal provender. Poor crops are also held responsible for dearer vegetables.

Economists disagree as to the reasons for the general upward tendency of all commodities during recent years, which has been world wide.

among the officers of the squadron are two men of royal blood. They are Ensign Prince Henry XXVII of Greece, the official guide to European nobility. Commanding the squadron is Rear Admiral von Reuber-Paschwitz, who was formerly naval attaché in Washington and has made a name for himself among American naval officers as an all round good fellow. LOWELL DROPPED TWO GAMES TO BROCKTON SATURDAY

Scores 8-5 and 3-2—Maybohm Started Both Games But Was Relieved by Zeiser

The Lowell pennant chasers went to Brockton and dropped two games to the Brockton "kids," the first by the score of 5 to 3 and the second by the score of 3 to 2. In both games Maybohm was sent in to start for Lowell and in the both games he had to be relieved. In the first session he lasted until the fifth, when with none out Smith singled and Capt. McLane pulled his second homer. Exit Mr. Maybohm, enter Zeiser. The latter pitched five balls but could not bring his team to the front.

Both games were marked with heavy hitting, by both teams. McLane of the Brockton team connecting for two homers in the first game and nearly getting a third one Rube DeGroot got a single, triple and homer, while Boulders got a triple. In the second contest, which was slated for seven innings, neither team had an advantage, Boulders got a homer in the seventh that held the game until the ninth.

Manager Gray sent Maybohm back to the mound in the second game, but as in the first the Brockton kids were there with the wallop and again sent him to the sheds, after pitching one inning. Zeiser was for the second time called to the rescue and he did well. Upham who worked in the last three innings of the first game for Brockton was on the mound in the second game and he did not allow a run for five innings. DeGroot tripled and sent in a run in the sixth and in the seventh Boulders got a homer, tying the score. Brockton won out in the eighth when Barry placed a fine line drive that scored a run and hung up the second defeat of the afternoon on the Lowell sluggers. The scores:

The South End Baseball Team Making Fine Record on Diamond

THE SOUTH END BASEBALL TEAM

While Lowell has a preponderance of good amateur ball teams, there is one, the South End, that has established a remarkable record so far this season. The team has lined up against some of the strongest in the city and has yet to be defeated. In all its games the team has played very fast, and despite their small size are good hitters. The team is composed of young men who hail from the vicinity of the South common, and this fact may attribute to their cleverness, inasmuch as the members' indulgence in considerable practice on the diamond laid out on the common.

To date the team has taken part in six games. On Memorial day they met the Marlboroughs on the Bunting cricket grounds and the game was stopped in the third inning with the boys from Ward Four in the lead. On Saturday the team lined up against the Marlboroughs and the city boys proved too much for their country friends and won by the score of 6 to 4. In all the other games the boys showed up strong and the team is now ready to meet any team in the city.

Pete McGreevy, the catcher, is without doubt one of the best amateur backstops in Lowell. He is a valuable man behind the bat and is especially strong with men on bases. He is a good puffer and an excellent coacher. At the best he is a wonder and his timely hits have been responsible for several of the victories. He is a great acquisition to the team and is a man who looks like a winner.

In the box the team is exceptionally strong, having two star slab artists, Devlin, the first string man, though still very young, has the earmarks of a good one. He possesses a lot of speed, has a good assortment of curves and a fine head. In the game against the Marlboroughs Memorial day, the latter had three men on bases with none out and he retired the side without scoring. Fahey, the other pitcher, is a good man and is very strong as a fielder. His regular position is third base and he is among the stars of the city on the hot corner. The team is captained by "Chickie" Dowd, who is well acquainted with all angles of the game, and Walter Lyons as manager is a good man in the position. He is very strong on the coach line and in an excellent period is a regular Hugh Jennings. The other members of the team are Breen, shortstop, Grady, first base, Lyons, centre field, Sweeney, right field, Gallagher, second base.

They were in charge of John Daly and Hugh Rooney and the Boy Scout exhibitions were looked after by Rev. E. Victor Bigelow and James Kibard. Capt. Walter Jeyes and Sgt. Walter had charge of the military exhibition and the refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Frank Spalding, chairman; Mrs. F. A. Bowen, Mrs. Cyrus Barton, Mrs. D. E. Yarnell, Mrs. Hattie Kew, Mrs. Steven Hands, Mrs. C. G. Anderson, Mrs. Fred Duncan, Mrs. Amos Kendall, Mrs. Elsie Sanders and Miss Belle Smith.

SULLIVAN'S LONG SWIM

C. Y. M. L. Athlete Made Fast Time

Henry F. Sullivan, the well known long distance swimmer who resides in Centralville and is a popular member of the C. Y. M. L., swam from Tyngsboro bridge to the Vesper boathouse

HENRY F. SULLIVAN.

Yesterday in the fast time of two hours and 29 minutes. Inasmuch as the current was with him he made better time than he did over the same course last year when the conditions were against him.

Sullivan entered the water at Tyngsboro bridge a few minutes before 12 o'clock and after swimming about for the signal to start crossed the line at exactly 12 o'clock. John Alon, Joseph Flory and William Maher, all members of the C. Y. M. L., accompanied the swimmer in a boat. Sullivan reached Tyngs Island in 36 minutes and passed the end of the island at 12:57. Some distance down the river Frank Murphy, the well known local athlete, went into the water and accompanied Sullivan the rest of the distance. Murphy paced the greater part of the distance and covered the last few miles in fast time. Sullivan finished about 200 yards ahead of Murphy.

Fine Program of Sports Was Carried Out Saturday Afternoon

The formal opening of the summer quarters of the Y. M. C. A. at Washington park, which was briefly reported in Saturday's Sun, attracted a very large crowd and was a grand success.

The program of the day was one of the best ever arranged and furnished amusement for all present.

The first feature on the program was a series of exhibition drills by the Boy Scouts, under the direction of Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, and the work of the young soldiers was very interesting and highly appreciated. The presentation of first aid to the injured, under the drill of Dr. Adam Shaw, was very good.

At the close of the drill the boys presented Dr. Shaw a beautiful silk umbrella as a token of their

THE LICENSE COMMISSION DISCUSSED JOYCE LICENSE

City Solicitor to Advise Board as to What Should be Done

The license commission, Commissioner Charles H. Hanson being absent, met in special session this morning relative to what should be done with the first and fourth class liquor licenses of The Chas. H. Joyce Co. in Central and Middle streets.

As previously published in the columns of this paper several days ago, the Joyce Co. assigned to Hon. John L. Drury for the benefit of its creditors, and the company was conducting the business but turning the money received over to Mr. Drury.

Lawyer Thomas J. Enright, who represents the Joyce Co., appeared before the commission this morning and announced that the company had been forced into bankruptcy and that in all probability a trustee would be appointed by the court Monday.

City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessy was also present and for about half an hour the law relative to the conducting of business by the company was discussed. Prior to the close of the meeting the city solicitor said he would give out an opinion relative to what he thought should be done by the commission.

AUTO DESTROYED AFTER JOY RIDE

Men Injured When Machine Struck Curbing

BOSTON, June 3.—An automobile containing three young men who, the police assert, were joy riding, struck the curbing of North circle, near the Point of Pines, early yesterday morning and upset. The car, which was speeding nearly 70 miles an hour, hurtled through the air and landed upside down in the middle of the grass plot. The three occupants, who had a remarkable escape from death, were thrown into rose bushes and escaped with a few cuts and bruises.

While the metropolitan police were searching for the occupants of the upset automobile, who had been taken to a doctor, another automobile came along and the occupants stole the tools, machine and several other parts of the overturned machine. In their search under the machine they lighted matches and set fire to the cushions and woodwork, which were soaked with gasoline that had escaped from the burst tank. The disabled and loaded car was destroyed by the fire.

The automobile was owned by Joseph E. Doherty, a member of the Cambridge water board, who is in danger on business. His chauffeur, George Hutchinson, 29 years old, of 31 Central avenue, Cambridge, took the car out Saturday evening and invited William W. Reed, 28, of 11 Florence street, Charles E. Hayman, 27, of Lisland

STATE HIGHWAYS BILL

Has Been Signed by Governor Foss

BOSTON, June 3.—The bill appropriating $5,000,000 for the construction of state highways was signed by Gov. Foss today. The bill provides that not more than one million dollars shall be spent in any year between 1912 and 1917.

The governor also signed the bill to regulate the practice of optometry. Under the provisions of the bill the governor will appoint a board of five optometrists who shall act as regulators of optometry and after Oct. 1 next no person shall practice optometry in Massachusetts who has not passed the examination conducted by the new board.

DR. HARVEY WILEY HAS OFFER OF MAYOR FITZGERALD UNDER CONSIDERATION

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Dr. Harvey Wiley, former chief of the United States bureau of chemistry, who has been offered a position as chairman of the Boston board of health, will not give his answer until he has consulted with the heads of the lecture bureau and the magazine of which he is a contributing editor to learn if he would object to his accepting the Boston place. It probably will be the latter part of the week before he gives his answer to Boston's offer.

Five Sons, Two of Them Kings, Followed the Body of King Frederick of Denmark to the Tomb

COPENHAGEN, June 3.—When the body of King Frederick was brought from Hamburg, where he died suddenly, it was followed to the grave by two sons who are reigning monarchs, a distinction never held by any other modern ruler. The body was conveyed from the royal yacht, in which it had made its last sea journey, in a hearse drawn by six horses heavily draped in black. Behind the hearse walked five of the dead king's sons and two of his

HOTEL STRIKE MAY SPREAD 7000 MEN ARE IDLE NOW

Hotel Firemen and Chauffeurs May Join the Ranks of the Strikers

NEW YORK, June 3.—The strike of waiters and cooks for higher wages, shorter hours and union recognition entered upon its second week today with both strikers and employers claiming victory.

Efforts by the state board of arbitration to adjust the controversy have been fruitless.

"We have granted most of the demands and have nothing further to arbitrate," declared President Reed of the Hotelmen's association. "We positively will not recognize the union."

The strike has developed the fact that New York is simply filled with floating waiters and most of us have had no trouble in filling the places vacated by the strikers.

Union officials claim that between 7000 and 8000 workers have quit and that they are flooded with applications for membership.

"Before you know it," said Business Agent Elder of the workers' union, "hotel workers of every kind, including the firemen and even the chauffeurs in the street will be with us before many days the hotels won't have any lights."

THE DRUNKEN OFFENDERS

Occupied the Attention of the Court Today

Although the docket in police court this morning was a rather large one the cases were disposed of in short order because of the fact that all of the prisoners who were brought before Judge Frederick A. Fisher were charged with drunkenness.

Mary Cavanaugh entered a plea of not guilty to a complaint charging her with being drunk. Patrolman Swannick said she arrested her in Corbett street Saturday night after he had given her a chance to go home and she had refused to go. The woman said that she had not been drinking, but that her husband had assaulted her. When asked by the court if she would take the pledge she refused to do so. The court, after interviewing the woman's husband, gave her a suspended sentence of two months in jail.

Oliver L. Vassaur was thrown out of his boarding house in Bridge street yesterday morning owing to the fact that he was intoxicated. Whether he was punched or fell down a flight of stairs or struck the sidewalk he did not know, but when Patrolman Perle found him lying in a doorway in Bridge street about 2 o'clock yesterday morning the man was bleeding from cuts in the head. This morning in court L.

The case of Catherine C. Cashman, charged with being drunk, was continued until tomorrow by request of the government.

When Patrolman Markham arrested John Jarosky for drunkenness it was found that the man had an open knife in his pocket. The defendant admitted he had been drinking but said he had no intention to use the knife. A fine of $2 was imposed.

Abel Rosborough was arrested by Special Officer Pope of Dracut. The latter testified that Mrs. Rosborough called at his house and asked that her husband be arrested. Abel, testifying in his own behalf, said his wife had tried to attack him with a fork, but that he did not intend to do her any harm. Rosborough as the only charge against the man was that of drunkenness. The court imposed a fine of $5.

Marcel Tessier, charged with being drunk, was given a suspended sentence to the state farm.

Annie McLennan was sentenced to two months in jail. Cain Landon and Morris Hayes were fined $5 each. There were several first offenders who were fined $2 each and seven simple drunks were released.

James Buckley, a Sunday drunk, was fined $5.

THE QUARTERLY MEETING OF UNION ST. JEAN BAPTISTE D'AMERIQUE

PARDON FOR VAUGHN HAS BEEN ASKED

Hearing Will be Held on Next Wednesday

A hearing on the release of Oile Vaughn, the younger of the two brothers who were sentenced to life imprisonment for a murderous attack upon Patrolman Healey in the Ayer City district, will be given by the governor's council on Wednesday of this week. It was in 1893 that the Vaughns, Oile and Robert, were sentenced to life in the state prison for the two of the bullets fired by the Vaughns, has been notified to appear at the hearing.

The quarterly meeting of District No. 5, Union St. Jean Baptiste d'Amérique, was held yesterday in South Lawrence under the auspices of Samuel de Champlain council. The affair was attended by delegates from Lowell, Lawrence, South Lawrence, Haverhill, Newburyport, Amesbury, Salem, Lynn, Ipswich and Andover. The principal business to come before the meeting was the reorganization of the council as ordered by the general board of officers of the union. Preceding the convention there was a parade followed by a high mass at Sacre-Coeur church, South Lawrence, and a dinner for all the delegates.

The delegates which included the following from Lowell assembled at Franco-American hall at the corner of Broadway and Lowell street, Lawrence, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon: J. N. Jacques, council, Adolphe Bouchard, Pierre A. Brousseau, Joseph A. N. Chretien, Hector McDonald, Pierre C. Gagnon, Carillon council, Joseph E. Montminy, Laval council, J. B. Blou-

At 10:30 o'clock the line of parade was formed headed by St. Cecile's band of South Lawrence and Gardes Laurier and Hussards Canadiens of Lawrence in command of Major Eugene Duchesneau of the first battalion of the French-American Volunteer Brigade of New England. Then came the members of Greater council and Samuel de Champlain council of Lawrence and South Lawrence respectively. The rear of the parade was composed of all the delegates. The march was up Broadway as far as the church where high mass was celebrated at 11 o'clock by the pastor of the parish, Rev. Etienne Vinas, S. J., who also delivered an appropriate sermon. In the course of his sermon Fr. Vinas urged the Catholics to join Catholic societies and no referred to the I. W. W., saying a person could not be a Catholic and be a member of the latter organization. He spoke at length on this labor union and told the members of his parish to keep away from such an organization.

The choir rendered the mass of the Sixth tone with Mr. Achille Proulx directing, the solos being sustained by Messrs. Joseph Desbriens of Lawrence, E. J. Larochelle, J. L. Daoust of Haverhill and Achille Proulx. After the service the delegates repaired to a restaurant where a good dinner was served.

The business meeting opened at the parish school at 2 o'clock with Achille Proulx in the chair. He explained the purpose of the meeting and immediately the election of officers was held with the following result: L. A. Thibault, Newburyport, re-elected president; Emile Garneau, Lawrence, vice president; Ephrem Barthelemy, Salem, secretary; Andre Brochu, Amesbury, treasurer; J. J. Daoust, Haverhill, master of ceremonies; Joseph F. Montminy, Lowell, temporary sentinel. The above officers were installed into office by Pierre Brousseau of Lowell, substitute to the president general.

Considerable routine business was transacted and it was voted that all the councils represented in the district council take part in the 25th of June celebration to be held in Amesbury by the council of the latter place. At that celebration the general board of officers of the union will be represented by Messrs. Dr. J. E. Ruest of Providence, physician general; Achille Proulx, Lawrence, auditor general and Pierre A. Brousseau, Lowell, substitute to the president general. The affair will consist of a large parade followed by a banquet and a grand banquet in the evening.

Several important questions concerning the union were discussed and adopted to be presented to the annual convention of the union which will be held in Fall River in September. The next meeting of the district council will be held in Newburyport on the second of August.

The Lowell delegates after the convention were entertained at the summer home of Achille Proulx in Andover, where they partook of a dainty meal. The committee on credentials at the afternoon meeting was composed of J. F. Montminy, Lowell; J. L. Daoust, Haverhill and Henri Ragoi, Lawrence.

TWO WOMEN INJURED IN CAR ACCIDENT

Lakeview Avenue Traffic Was Held Up

The front axle on one of the small cars of the Bay State Street Railway Co., running on the Lakeview avenue line broke near the Coburn farm, between the Navy Yard and Collinsville about two o'clock yesterday afternoon, causing the car to jump the rails and plough through the roadbed for a short distance.

Inasmuch as the car was traveling at a moderate rate of speed none of the passengers was badly hurt, but two women were shaken up and sustained minor injuries. They were placed on a car and hurried to this city where they were attended by a physician.

The accident caused the blocking of traffic to Lakeview park and to make matters worse one of the large double truck cars left the rail near the schoolhouse in Collinsville about an hour later.

Immediately after the accident to the small car a wrecking crew was sent to the scene but it was several hours after that before the car was placed on the rails and towed to this city. Many people who were on the car walked to the lake instead of waiting for the rails to be cleared.

THE KASINO

That the Kasino has scored a great hit with Lowell's dancing population is evident from the crowds that have daily attended the sessions. The first week's business exceeded all expectations for there is every incentive for large crowds—good music, a first class dancing surface, ample room, convenient location and last, but not least, the coolest spot in Lowell.

While the price for dancing is but five cents a ticket, patrons may rest assured that only refined, wholesome dancing is permitted. Women and children are especially invited to monopolize the Kasino, and every possible attention for their comfort will be given. Dancing sessions are at 2 in the afternoon and at 7:45 o'clock in the evening.

Strike of New York Waiters Caused Diners to Change Plans

NEW YORK, June 3.—Edward Blochlinger, secretary of the International Hotel Workers' union, the organization that has caused strikes in 20 or more of the leading hotels, clubs and restaurants of the city, is confident that the men will ultimately gain the increase in wages that they demand and that they will also gain recognition for the union. The hotel proprietors have expressed a willingness to concede an increase in wages and a change in certain rules to which the waiters, chefs and other employees object, but they refuse to consider the recognition of the union. THE CITY PLANNING CONFERENCE

Boston has recently listened to a conference of very wise men on city planning. It seems rather ironical that such a conference should be held in the one city of America which shows the least mark of original design. But perhaps the conference came to the conclusion that Boston above all other cities needs their advice. The streets of Boston are disgracefully narrow and crooked; but then the beautifiers say that beauty consists largely in graceful curves. These curves some of the streets undoubtedly have; but more of them abound in elbow joints and angles of every description. Yet at the present day with much of Boston's beauty in her subways, the city is one of the most advanced in the world, not only in regard to its streets but its buildings, its transit system and its magnificent public parks.

The city planners cast out many hints that would benefit Lowell in regard to streets, highways, and architecture. The policy of having all new streets conform to a definite plan and having them wide and easy of access is very important. We have too many blind ends or cul de sacs, so to speak. Had these been prevented in the original plan we should now have no such problem as the extension of Dummer and other streets through which an outlet is demanded as a matter of public convenience.

It is important also to have the city studded with public breathing places or small parks that can be beautified and thus prevent the crowding of buildings without the relief of an occasional open space to be kept as a public park, with trees, flowers and if necessary fountains. Public playgrounds, public baths, public promenades are all requisites of a modern city if the people are to be drawn away from the congested districts to enjoy innocent and health-giving recreation.

AGAIN IN LAWRENCE

Lawrence is having another strike, this time in the Wood mills. The cause of the strike, we understand, is some difference among the operatives, one set refusing to work with another that declined to join the I. W. W. The agitators of the latter organization are at the bottom of the affair apparently and doubtless are determined to make Lawrence their stronghold in this country. San Diego, Cal., being now under the strict enforcement of the "move on" ordinance. The pioneers in the social revolution feel that they are gaining ground whenever they are able to kick up trouble on any pretext. If they have no excuse for striking on charges against the employers, it's their business to find a cause for trouble among the operatives. Thus the issues with the mill men of Lawrence having been settled, the agitator organize a strike to compel other operatives to join the I. W. W., that this organization may be able to run the mills or shut them down as it pleases. Where is this trouble going to end?

CHAUFFEURS AS HIGHWAYMEN

New York City is liable to have trouble with auto handits somewhat similar to that experienced by the city of Paris. The police have discovered that a great many thieves and ex-convicts are licensed as chauffeurs and thus gain access to the homes of wealthy men. The police have already organized a taxi squad to deal with these crooks and there is no telling when a clash may come. In the daylight robbery attempted by the aid of a chauffeur the perpetrators were quickly caught so that the gang has found that they will have some difficulty in plying their business in New York.

An important question is thus brought to public attention in the licensing of these men, and it is suggested that the licensing power in such cases should rest in the hands of the police. The police could look up the records of all applicants for licenses and guard against granting ex-convicts, thieves and robbers the right to drive taxis in the public streets.

MONUMENT TO WRIGHT

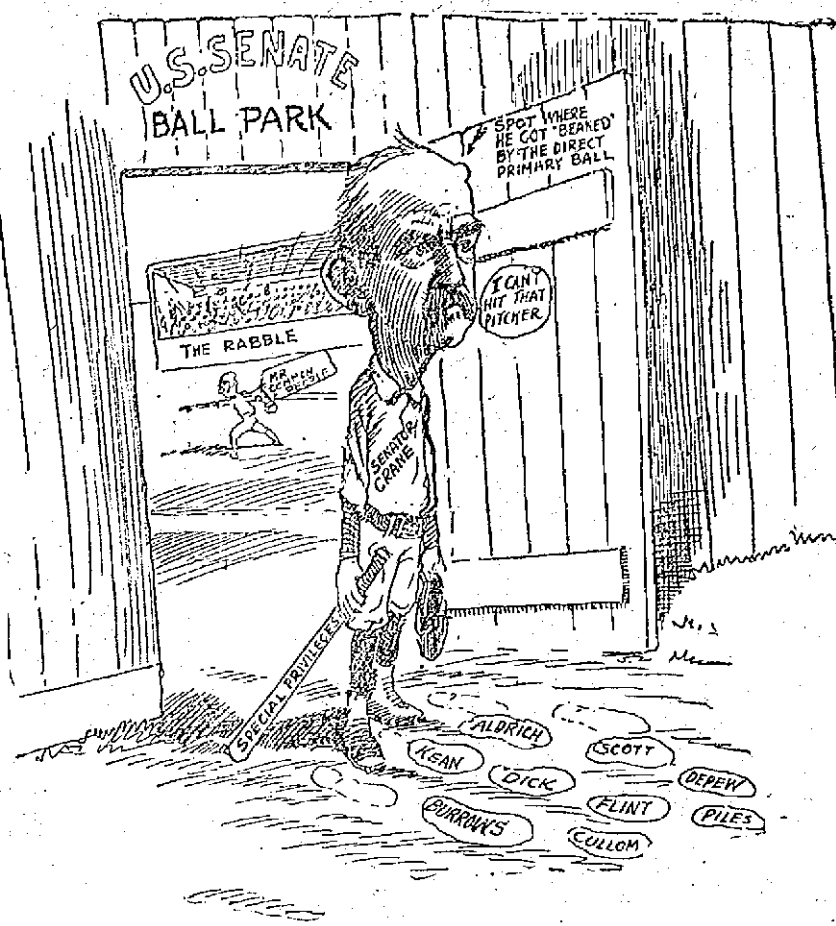

Claude Grahame-White the noted English aviator, has shown a fraternal spirit in being the first to come out in favor of a monument to Wilbur Wright who has been the pioneer in navigation of the air just as George Stevenson was the man who first adapted the steam engine to the purposes of locomotion. Wright was well named the Columbus of the air on account of his invention. In actual feats of aviation, however, he did not attempt the dangerous stunts performed by Atwood, Hoxsey and others. But it was Wright's invention that made the most daring exploits in the air possible. Wright will, therefore, be honored as an inventor as are Watt and Stevenson for perfecting the steam engine and as Marconi will be honored as the discoverer of wireless telegraphy.

There is almost as much speculation as to whom the democratic convention will nominate as to what the republicans will do with Roosevelt. The republican convention must decide between Taft and Roosevelt, whereas on the democratic side there are Clarke, Wilson, Underwood, Harman, Bryan and last but not least, Gov. Foss of Massachusetts. There is much difference of opinion as to which of these candidates would be best to put into the ring with Roosevelt. It will require the exercise of good judgment to select the strongest man.

England has her own troubles with the labor unions. Scarcely had the coal strike been settled when the London dock laborers decided to strike in spite of the fact that they had broken their agreements previously made with their employers. This idea that some craft must always be on strike in order to make an impression is wrong and injurious to all concerned.

The sentence of John A. Maloy, a chauffeur, to from five to seven years for killing two men by reckless driving, should serve as a wholesome lesson to other drivers. There should be more such sentences in cases where people are maimed or killed as the direct result of criminal recklessness in driving automobiles.

Butler Ames declares himself a candidate for Senator Crane's place against Hon. Curtis Guild. Is he to enter from the congressional contest? That is a question of some interest to the people of the new fifth district.

QUITTING THE GAME

Seen and Heard

A very dear friend takes us to task for "misquoting" in Wednesday's edition when we said that Thomas Gray wrote for his "Elegy in a Country Churchyard," the following stanza:

"There, scattered off the earliest of the year
By hands unseen, are showers of violets found;
The earliest loves to build and warble there,
And little footsteps lightly print the ground."

We accept with a deal of pleasure the honest criticism of our friend, but on this particular occasion, we are obliged to put one over on him. It is very true that the stanza is not included in the elegy as it appears today, but it was included in some of the first editions between the line "Gray'd on the stone beneath you aged thorn" and the epitaph. It was afterward omitted because the author thought it was too long a parenthesis in this place. The lines, however, are in themselves, exquisitely nice and demand preservation. This is our explanation to our very dear friend and he will note, too, that we said Gray wrote the stanza "for his elegy."

Here is another of the rejected stanzas:

"Him have we seen the greenwood side along,
While o'er the heath we hid, our labor done;
Of us the woodcock pip'd her farewell song,
With wistful eyes pursue the setting sun."
This stanza, in Gray's first manuscript, followed after the verse terminating with the line "To meet the sun upon the upland lawn."

A very great friend of Gray's, speaking of this stanza, said: "I rather wonder that he rejected this stanza, as it not only has the same sort of Doric deliciousness which characterizes peculiarly in this part of the poem, but also completes the account of his whole day; whereas, this evening scene being omitted, we have only his morning walk, and his noon-tide repose."

There is something wrong in the house where a woman hurries to dust off the Bible just because she sees the minister coming down the street.

Haven't you noticed that you almost never feel that a man is talking too much when he is paying you a compliment?

Some men might really accomplish something if they would only take the time they spend in telling what they have done for doing something else.

Remember that you haven't absolutely failed so long as you have an opportunity to try again.

When a man owes you a debt of gratitude, you needn't worry, as a rule, for fear that he will lose a lot of sleep thinking how to pay it.

THE LITTLE MIRACLES

(Chicago Post)

I hollered for a miracle, I argued loud and long;
I put the case before 'em in some statements mighty strong;
I said 'twas no use talkin' if miracles was done,
In other days, 'twas easy to show me only one.

I walked off mighty proudlike—and smiled at the perfume
That wafted its way to me from a lilac bush in bloom.
I set an' made 'em listen, when I'd let 'em have my own say;
I showed 'em by cold logic we are livin' in today.

We went clear back to Jonah, an' showed 'em the rock;
There was no claim that they made I couldn't set an' mock;
Then I jokin' jump-up laughed as me from in 'em;
I saw my twisted spirit like in a lookin'-glass.

I hollered for a miracle, I dared 'em just to show
One marvel like they talked about or 'fore me, or ova;
An' then I saw th' orchard—last month all dead an' bare
An' now a sea of blossoms that sanctify'd the air.

Out yonder in th' meadow lot th' dandy lilies bloz;
Th' 'n' dozen of th' grapevines reaches out a dozen ways.
I hollered for a miracle. An' right is miracles as wonderful as when th' dead arise!
A tree alive with blossoms, a vine that a swallow that can find its nest again below th' leaves!

I hollered for a miracle—there's one been worked with me.
For I was blind, but in a flash 'twas given me to see!

MAN FOUND DEAD

JEREMIE DAUDELIN WAS VICTIM OF APOPLEXY

CHICAGO, June 3.—Jeremie Daudelin, aged 57, of 172 Main street, Chicago Falls, was found dead in his bed at 9:10 last evening by neighbors who started a search for him at the request of one of his daughters.

Medical Examiner Gallagher viewed the body and pronounced death due to apoplexy. His youngest daughter, Mary, tried to gain an entrance to the house, knowing he was at home, because of a light in his room, but failing to arouse him, she became alarmed and after an hour's work the door was broken down.

Wood chopping in a "forest, primeval" or near primeval, is a diversion in which I have had at one time or another a desire to indulge, but not having had the opportunity, have contented myself, my merely reading about the exhilarating exercise and by entertaining the hope that through some lucky chance I might attain the object of my desire.

Like most persons who have passed their lives looking on at others chopping and sawing, I enjoy reading about life in the woods, in the Outing magazine, a journal which, by the way

BIG PARADE

TO BE HELD BY BARNUM AND BAILEY CIRCUS

The Barnum and Bailey Greatest Show on Earth will present in Lowell on June 11, the greatest street parade in the history of the American circus. It will be in no way similar to the parades of the past. It is three miles in length. It cost the management $1,000,000.

With the advantage of many years spent in touring all the civilized countries of the world where this circus is as well known as in America, Barnum and Bailey's many agents have been constantly gathering the materials to be used in this year's street spectacle. Remote savage lands have been ransacked. Artists and designers from France and Italy have worked out the designs and ideas. Day and night for two years mechanics and property builders have toiled in foreign workshops, executing these ideas. There has been no regard to the cost.

All strange types of the human family are found in the procession, together with their characteristic costumes, weapons of war, vehicles, idols and music. Rich and fantastic wagons of state, gorgeous tableau floats, palanquins, richly draped howdahs, rolling throngs, chariots of fire and fairy vans have been made of the most expensive woods, carved by hand labor and embellished with pure gold. The harness is silver mounted. The laces are from Ireland. The silks and satins are from China and Japan. The rugs and tapestry are from Persia and Turkey.

The effect of all this wealth is dazzling. The equipment is more gorgeous by far than anything of its nature exhibited in past seasons. The parade is three times longer than any other. It cost ten times as much money. It is a congress of nations, a horse fair, a musical convention, a zoological garden on wheels, a fairyland carnival and an academy of science, all rolled into one panorama.

A trip to the grounds is like a tour of the world, without the annoyance of seasickness. The great sea of canvas spreads out over fourteen acres of ground. In the stables are 700 of the finest horses that money can buy. In the menagerie are 1200 animals. Among them is the only baby giraffe in America. This single exhibit is worth more than the average circus. On the grounds is a dynamo plant, furnishing power for twenty different shops and supplying current for 7000 incandescent lamps, flaring arcs, beacons and searchlights.

The best talent of the world has been selected to give the performance under the main tent. There are 100 artists. Among the foremost features are Katie Sandwina, the strongest and most beautiful woman in the world; Mae Wirth, the greatest equestrienne ever seen in America; the Georgetty family of strong-arm jugglers; the Siegrist family of acrobats; a company of Japanese athletes and jiu jitsu experts. Winston's trained seals, Berzack's mule and donkey circus, the fifty funniest clowns in the world, Victorica Cadona, the queen of high wire dancers; the Florence, Les Jardy and Les Deko families of acrobats, and the Filhis family of riders. The performance begins with the $500,000 spectacle of "Eleopatra."

A YOUNG WOODCHOPPER

Tells Thrilling Story of His Experience

Here is the story of a city chap who got into his silly little head that chopping and sawing wood are real pleasures in which his rural cousin revels and which he, the city chap, is denied:

Wood chopping in a "forest, primeval" or near primeval, is a diversion in which I have had at one time or another a desire to indulge, but not having had the opportunity, have contented myself, my merely reading about the exhilarating exercise and by entertaining the hope that through some lucky chance I might attain the object of my desire.

Like most persons who have passed their lives looking on at others chopping and sawing, I enjoy reading about life in the woods, in the Outing magazine, a journal which, by the way

It is easier to see the effect of the Suit when it's on—than to guess how the cloth will look made up and there's no question either about the fit.

Is, I imagine, read with more pleasure by clerks in musty office buildings than by woodsmen themselves. I had read with avidity, about life in the open, about streams, about antelope, and about salmon, about campfires, and about the gentle yet invigorating exercise of chopping wood. How I envied the lucky fellows who passed days and weeks and even months in this primitive manner of living.

It may easily be imagined, therefore, with what eagerness and thankfulness I accepted the invitation of a friend to pay him a visit at his camp near Long Sought For pond.

While spending a few hours loafing about the camp after my arrival I picked up my ears at the chance remark of Tom, my friend, that he had the previous morning cut down a maple tree nearby and that he contemplated sawing and splitting it to firewood in a day or so. I asked Tom if the axe and saw were handy and on his replying "yes" requested that I might "take a fall" out of the prospective tree. Tom, however, appeared to look upon my wood cutting aspirations with some degree of dubiousness. Said he: "It's new to you and, besides, it's harder work than it looks."

At these misgivings, however, I laughed, threw out my chest, and replied: "Preposterous. Why anybody can swing an axe or push a saw. Bring out the tools and I'll show you that I'm a natural born woodsman."

Being handed the axe and saw I began work. First of course, I spent my hands to ensure a firm grip; for how could I presume to call myself a thorough woodchopper if I did not at once initiate the preliminary action of all knights of the axe. While thus salivating (unphonously speaking) the thought entered my mind that I was sadly lacking in one qualification necessary for a "complete" woodsman. I do not "chew." However, I determined that, handicapped though I was, I would give a good account of myself. Then with a graceful swing or one which I believed so to be, I started in with the chopping of the smaller branches of the fallen maple. These I cut without any exertion, and where, so easily in fact that I began to speak of it as "chopping." I thought of the "doubling" Thomas who had advised me to let the tree alone. After stripping the maple of its smaller branches I began cutting into the more girthy ones. The chopping of these required my putting on more steam but of this I calculated that I had an inexhaustible supply. Battered so with vanity, I backed away at the limbs with might and main and after a good deal of work, which was now becoming laborious, I finally cleared the trunk. "What beautiful scenery about here," I thought—and, to admire it, broke off work for a time. Of course it was the love of the beautiful, not the sensation of fatigue, which impelled me to come to a halt. After I had drunk in all the beauties of nature that were lying about I strolled over to where the saw lay and upon fingering its teeth finally decided that it certainly was sharp enough to rip across the maple. So, taking a firm "hold" and, by placing my left knee on the trunk, striking a most orthodox attitude, I hunched my back and started to saw away. As the tapering end of the trunk was of short diameter the sawing of the several lengths was not very hard work. Then I commenced on the thicker part. It surely was a job, after bending my back to this portion of it for a few minutes I paused, to moisten my palms. The weather was hot. Consequently little beads of sweat legan to keep company with one another upon my classic brow. However, I sawed away with the perseverance of a beaver and the palms of my hands grew warm and then began to burn. I paused again. When I straightened up, ouch! how my back did ache! Invigorating exercise? Ugh! Having rested for a few minutes I took a long, lingering look at the trunk to find out how much deeper it was necessary to cut in order to sever the last section. Eight inches. Again I hunched my back. "Zee, zee, zee, zee, zee," sounded the saw as I pushed it from and drew it to me. "Zee, zee, zee, zee, zee, zee." The sweat trickling like a mountain rivulet down my nose, battered onto the trunk so copiously that I thought new leaves would surely begin to sprout. "Zee, zee, zee, zee, zee, zee." A gally slave never suffered as I did with that confounded saw. My arms ached; my back ached; my palms burned. Yes, I even feared catching cold for I seemed to be standing in a puddle formed by a miniature shower of sweat. At last the saw cut through and my "exhilarating" exercise was completed. Tired? Well, I guess. I threw myself on the grass and, after looking ruefully at the collection of logs, said "Never again."

A PITCHED BATTLE TWO MEN WERE SHOT

Rioting Laborers, Police and Firemen Clashed at Newark, New Jersey

NEWARK, N. J., June 3.—A pitched battle between 500 rioting laborers and the entire police and fire departments of Kearny, a suburb, was fought in the main street of the town today. During a preliminary skirmish the laborers killed Chief of Police Tolson and a constable and pursued him to a vacant house, from which he opened fire upon them. The rioters bombarded the house with stones and bricks for several minutes before the reserves arrived. Two of his assailants were shot, one of them mortally.

The fight occurred when a force of striking laborers, reinforced by companions from this city, descended upon a gang of workmen digging a ditch in the street. The strikers were quickly routed by the combined forces of blue-coats and firemen and 12 were locked up.

COMPLICATED CASE IN SUPERIOR COURT

Arises Out of Settlement of Coffey Estate

A suit brought by Edmunds R. Conant, doing business as J. E. Conant & Son, auctioneers, against Humphrey O'Sullivan and Joseph F. Donohoe of Lowell, Michael J. Rordan, lawyer of the firm of Sullivan & Devine, Salem, Annie T. Coffey, Sr., and two minor children, Annie T. Coffey, Jr., and John H. Coffey, all of Salem, was heard in the superior court in this city today. Judge Stevens presiding.

The defendants, O'Sullivan and Donohoe, have been defaulted and testified as witnesses for Mr. Conant who seeks to hold Mr. Rordan, who, with O'Sullivan and Donohoe, was one of the petitioners appointed by the probate court to partition the estate of John H. Coffey, in 1908, for his services and expenses as auctioneer in the sale of the Coffey property ordered by the commissioners.

Mr. Conant also seeks to hold the Coffeys responsible because Annie T. Coffey, Sr., as guardian of Annie T. Coffey, Jr., and John H. Coffey, was the petitioner, not defaulted, in liable.

The bill amounts to $511 and the case is a complicated one.

Messrs. O'Sullivan and Donohoe testified that Rordan had a part in employing Mr. Conant. After the plaintiff's evidence the case was suspended until tomorrow morning in order to enable the court to decide who, if any of the defendants, not defaulted, is liable.

Albert S. Howard of this city for the plaintiff and Sullivan & Devine of Salem for the defendants.

The new Hebrew school in Howard street between Westford and Chelmsford streets was dedicated in a fitting manner yesterday afternoon. There was a very large attendance present and a fine musical and literary program was rendered. The school will be known as the Lowell Hebrew school and the sessions will be from 7:30 o'clock until 9 o'clock.

The building was purchased some time ago by Messrs. David Ziskind and Max Cohen and donated to the Hebrew community for a school where their children may be taught their mother tongue after the regular school hours. It is a one and one-half story building and is situated at 63 Howard street.

At five o'clock yesterday afternoon several thousand people gathered at Manton synagogue in Howard street and formed in line for a parade. Headed by a brass band the long line of paraders marched to Grand, to Chelmsford, to Howard street as far as the school, where the dedication exercises were held.

Mr. David Ziskind opened the exercises with an appropriate speech and he introduced Bennett Silverblatt, Esq., as presiding officer. Mr. Silverblatt in appropriate remarks explained the purpose of the school and in the name of the entire community he thanked the donors, Messrs. Ziskind and Cohen, and congratulated them for their kindness toward their people. The other speakers were Rabbi Riskin of Lawrence and Chairman John C. Farrington of the school committee.

Following the speeches the children rendered several American and Hebrew songs, while the band played delightful selections. The school was appropriately decorated for the occasion and the event was a notable one in the Hebrew community.

PAINFUL INJURY

Little Theresa Finn, aged about 2 years, of Somerville, suffered a very painful accident yesterday afternoon, when she fell at the corner of Gorham and Appleton streets and fractured her left arm. The child came here on a visit with her mother and after she stepped off the car at the postoffice, she started on a run. Her mother caught hold of her dress and held on to her for fear she might be run over by vehicles. The little one, however, pulled away and fell to the pavement, fracturing her left arm. She was removed to the Emergency hospital, where she was treated.

THE TROLLEY MEN

ARE VOTING TODAY ON QUESTION OF STRIKE

SPRINGFIELD, June 3.—Trolley men of Westfield, Palmer, and Springfield, employees of the New England Investment Co. are voting today from nine o'clock in the morning until nine o'clock tonight on the question: "Are you in favor of supporting your own demands to the extent of suspension of work?" Answer yes or no. It is supposed that the vote will favor supporting the demand for 25 cents an hour flat, even though a strike is necessary, but it is impossible to judge how the ballots are being cast.

This was come back day at Spalding park, for Arthur Lavigne came back after being out of the game for 10 days as the result of an accident to his ankle while sliding home in the game at Lawrence a week ago last Saturday, and Kolseth, the pitcher who has been under suspension from the Lawrence team, came back in a Lowell uniform and looked good in practice. Kolseth had a grouch on Lawrence, and who could blame him, and he preferred to loaf than play in Lawrence. When he heard the glad news, however, that he was to go to Lowell he packed up his grip, made the folks good-by, he didn't say for how long, and beat it to Lowell.

There was an attendance of about 500, including a few fans from the down-river city, who made up in numbers for what they lacked in enthusiasm.

Umpire Jack Kerins was the decision-maker and he called the fun at 3 o'clock.

The teams lined up as follows:

Lowell	Lawrence
Clemens cf	Phoenix 2b
Magee lf	Hagan 3b
DeGroot rf	Briggs cf
Bouttes 3b	Layster rf
Conney ss	Kennedy lf
Miller 1b	Burns ss
Loneragan 2b	Chase 1b
Lavigne c	Breymaier c
Wolfgang p	Pearson p

First Inning
The visitors went to bat. Phoenix fanned and Lavigne dropped the ball but he recovered it and nailed the South Boston wonder at first. Hagan hit to Wolfgang and died at first. Joe Briggs hit to Loneragan and was third out at first.

Clemens opened for Lowell and hit to Pearson, who threw him out at first. Jimmy Magee fanned out. DeGroot walked down to first on four bad ones. Jake hit to Burns, who threw to Phoenix at second, forcing the big fellow.

Score: Lowell 0, Lawrence 0.

Second Inning

Lavigne the hard-hitting ex-pitcher opened up for the visitors but his best was a fly that Bouttes squeezed. Kennedy hit something that looked for a two base hit but it turned out to be a beautiful running catch in deep center by Clemens. Burns was playing shortstop to relieve Christman who was hit in the jaw by a ball at Lynn, fanned out.

Lowell didn't lose any time in getting out. Conney hit to Phoenix and was out at the first station. Miller walked to first and tried to steal second but Loneragan Breymaier threw him out. Loneragan hit to Burns and died at first.

Score: Lowell 0, Lawrence 0.

Third Inning

Another curload of Lawrence rooters was dumped off at this point and they proceeded to make the welkin ring, whatever that is. Chase hit to Loneragan and died at first. Breymaier fanned. Pearson hit to Wolfgang and died at first. As this made nine men up in three innings the fans hauled "Wolfe" their generous applause as he made for the bench. Lavigne received a hand as he walked to the plate, still walking with a slight limp. Arthur hit to Hagan and was out to Chase.

Score: Lowell 0, Lawrence 0.

Fourth Inning

Wolfgang did the same thing identically. Clemens fied out to Kennedy. Score: Lowell 0, Lawrence 0.

Fifth Inning

Phoenix arose again in the fourth and died to Magee. Hagan and Briggs made the zephyrs waft across the diamond each swinging at three, without. Briggs hit to Burns and died at first. DeGroot fied out to Hagan. Bouttes sent a fly to Kennedy and all went to the field.

Score—Lowell 0, Lawrence 0.

Sixth Inning

After Umpire Kerins had announced a bargain day at Lawrence tomorrow when there will be a double-header for the usual price of admittance, they played on then hit a fly to short center about half played in only 10 minutes. Layster made another good bid for an extra base hit but again Clemens showed them where he had it on Pop Rising by another beautiful running catch. Then up comes Kennedy for the first safe hit of the game, a single by third base. It was only a waste of energy, however, for after Briggs had fied to first Arthur, Kennedy attempted to steal and arrested a moment after the ball, Conney doing the rest.

We got a hit and a run in this inning sending Lowell stock up among the preferred. Conney hit to Phoenix and died at first. Clemens got Wolfgang's first hit, a single to left. He stole second. Pearson threw to second to catch him off and Burns dropped the sphere allowing Clem to make third. Loneragan hit to Burns, who threw to the plate but Clemens beat the ball out and scored. KEITH'S LOWELL THEATRE

Back to the big vaudeville show is the program for the summer months beginning today with five big acts of vaudeville, the regular Keith circuit acts and the best of first run specialty selected motion pictures at popular prices with the regular Keith's eight-piece orchestra and the celebrated Keith cooling plant to keep one comfortable during the hottest days and nights. The bill will be changed twice weekly so that in reality ten acts will be given here each week. For the first three days of this week the bill will include Alfredo, the Yagabond Violinist. Alfredo will be recalled as one of the biggest musical hits of the season at Keith's. What he won't do with a violin isn't worth doing. He is a mad boy, too, and the critics predict that he will be a world-beater. Walton and Lester present a roaring farce entitled "The World's Worst Wizard." James Kennedy and company will present the laughable comedy "Jack Rabbit." Gibney and Forde are excellent comedians who introduce a little of everything that's good. Newport and Strick give a funny sketch entitled "Fun in a Barber Shop." The five reels of motion pictures, all new, include the beautiful western story, "The Child of the Wilderness," a new Sabu film, "The Edison company offers 'Him's Wife,' a heart interest scenic story, the northern logging camp, 'The Esanay film gives a comedy picture entitled 'Marsden's Awakening,' depicting the adventures of a precocious little girl. 'An Innocent Theft' is a Vitaphone film with another beautiful human interest story. The prices are 5, 10, 15 and 25 cents for the evenings, and 5, 10 and 15 for the matinee. Orchestra seats for evening performance 25, 15 and 10 cents.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Those of you who favor the best of vaudeville and the very latest and best of photo-plays will surely find your wants met in the week's offering at the Merrimack Square Theatre. The Temple Players, whose run in Lowell has made them popular among the theatre-going public, will be seen in a comedy-musical musical comedy, entitled "Circus Day." The piece is said to be among the best in their repertoire and should tend to add to their popularity locally. Miss Grace Hawthorne, the charming and clever soloist of the company, will again be heard in belated numbers, including one of her latest, "What's the Matter With the Moon Tonight." The other members of the cast will be seen and heard in new things that will contribute their proportionate share in the success of the presentation. The act will be adequately staged.

Benjamin Pierce, "The Dutchman with the Hobbie Spirit," a comedian of marked ability, will share in the general excellence of the bill, and Bartlett, two fun-makers, are to present their "laughable sketch, 'O'Brien from Galloway.'" Donnelly and Hanson, comedy clowns, will have things that are new and novel to offer, and Miss Alice Bagley will be heard in some of her latest and most popular illustrated songs. The photo-plays for the first three days of the week will include "An Outcast Among Outcasts," a production by the Biograph company; "The Honey-mooner," a Lubin make; "A Reconstructed Rebel," and others that are new to Lowell people.

THEATRE VOYONS

Today, Tuesday and Wednesday the Theatre Voyons will at the request of its patrons present "The Coming of Columbus." It will be presented with complete musical and mechanical effects and in a way second to none.

The vital events in the life of the great discoverer who gave a new world to civilization are reproduced with historic exactness. To depict with photographic accuracy the great events of history is an achievement to be numbered among the most marvelous of up-to-date science. In these remarkable pictures Columbus lives and breathes and moves. He pleads his cause at the feet of Ferdinand and Isabella. In the accompaniment of an admiral of Spain he stands upon the quarterdeck of the Santa Maria and leads his fleet of three catavels westward from Palos across an unknown sea. He quells a mutiny in unbecoming. He defies his captives to turn him back. You see him pacing to and fro on the weather side of his high-pooped little vessel. You see his lips move. You see his hands beat the air in eloquent gesture. You see the glint and sparkle of his eye. You see his face deep in thought or irradiated with the inspiration of the dream that led him on. "The Columbus of the pictures is alive. It is as if the camera had reached back into the past by some occult power and visualized scenes forever departed.

The making of these wonderful pictures occupied three years. The greatest part of this time was taken up in gathering data concerning the life of Columbus to insure historical accuracy in every detail. William N. Selig, president of the Selig Polyscope company, spared no expense in working out this masterpiece. He sent a committee of scholars to Spain. These men spent months digging among the dusty archives of Madrid, Salamanca, Cordova and Seville. They brought to light many new facts about Columbus. Of interest to all Catholics and to the world at large is the fact that the films already have been presented before Pope Pius X, who enjoyed the pictures hugely and sent his blessing and a medal to Mr. Selig by Father Tonello. It is the first time the pope ever gave his official approval to a commercial enterprise.

"It is rather hard at certain times," Father Tonello wrote in describing his interview with the pope, "to obtain a private audience, but through a dear friend of mine I received a letter of invitation to be at the Vatican at 12 o'clock sharp on a certain day. The day before I had invited several prelates, ladies and gentlemen, among these the sisters of the pope, to see the films on the screen. The Sala Pictoria of Sala Pia was well packed, and the history of the great discoverer, with all his hardships, joys and sorrows, was viewed by the illustrious spectators with the greatest interest and enthusiasm. The private secretary of the pope, Monsignor Pisani, and the Monsignor Egolini, who were sitting at my side, were particularly impressed, and in occasional bursts of enthusiasm whispered, 'Oh, how lovely!'"

"How grand!" At the end of the exhibition the audience gave a viva for Mr. Selig. "The next day at noon sharp I passed through the main hall where the pope gives public audiences and was at the door of the pope's private apartments. Brother Damaso, the director of the Sala Pia, had preceded me and had told the pope of the success of the exhibition. When I entered the room I found his holiness standing by a kind of cabinet, picking from it some small medals containing medals. 'Come in, my son,' he said. 'I was just looking for some nice suitable gift for your Mr. Selig. Then he showed me a little silver medal bearing his own likeness. 'This is not pretty enough,' he said. 'Never mind, your holiness, this is all right for me,' I answered. He gave it to me, with three other smaller ones which I dared to ask for, seeing how good he was to me. Then he said, 'I have something better for Mr. Selig.' He crossed the room, went to another cabinet and got another beautiful medal in a red plush basket. 'Now this is for Mr. Selig,' he said.

"All this was done before I presented the reels. Then the pope bade me sit down by his desk. When I had given him the reels the holy father examined the small pictures. He had been informed by Brother Damaso and others how beautiful they were on the screen. Then he turned to Brother Damaso, who was there, and giving the reels to him for the Sala Pia, said, 'You will have a big show now,' and smiled happily.

"We talked awhile about the splendid exhibition of the 'Coming of Columbus.' Then the pope said: 'You will please extend my thanks and congratulations to Mr. Selig, and my wishes for the greatest success of this 'Coming of Columbus.' I wish to encourage him to make other films of such historic and moral value."

"As I know that the holy father had forbidden all priests to go to moving picture shows, owing to many irregular and immoral films exhibited in Rome, I told him that the censorship in America was much more strict, especially in regard to immoral and religious subjects. He was very glad to hear this, and said: 'It is my great desire that this great invention should become a school of truth, of high education, of morality, of social and domestic virtues and of real benefit to humanity and religion.'

"After a few words about other matters I knelt down to ask his blessing for me, my family and my many friends. He waited patiently until I was through my list, blessed all of them, and said: 'Tell Mr. Selig that I bless him, his family and his work.' I left with the impression that I had been conversing with a saint."

ROGERS HALL PUPILS

ATTENDED HIGH ST. CHURCH

Sermon on "Let No Man Despise Thy Youth" Delivered by Rev. A. C. Ferrin

At the High Street Congregational church, Sunday morning, Rev. Allan Conant Ferrin preached from the text, "Let no man despise thy youth." Besides his congregation there were present the students of the Rogers' Hall school. The preacher said in part:

"This is the young woman's age, the young man's age, as none other has ever been. So much so that this junction, 'Let no man despise thy youth,' seems at first superfluous. The rights of youth are clearly understood. In the former days youth was overshadowed by maturity and old age. Today it sometimes seems to be the reverse. In those earlier days it was a difficult matter for youth to obtain a hearing—it must wait till the years brought it. Today it has a hearing as soon as it begins to find expression for itself. In those days the son was known by the name and achievements of his father and the daughter by those of her mother. Now the elders are often known by their children. It may be that this is sometimes without wise discrimination, that experience and gray hairs do not count for as much as they should. Nevertheless, you young people may congratulate yourselves, and we may all be glad, that it is as it is—that youth has at last its rights, and that there is large hope in young blood and in its value to the world. It is this hope that is providing such rich educational privileges to the youth of America today without regard to sex or social advantage.

"We are glad to concede your rights, my young friends—the rights of youth, the rights of the morning, the rights of the spring time, as Phillips Brooks used to say. They are the rights of the nearer proximity to the source of life—God; the rights of freshness, of inexperience, of optimism, of the courage of natural ignorance. This new world in which we are living today has large hope in young life, because it believes in opportunity, in growth, in unutilized possibilities of the human mind and heart; because it has learned as but few had learned in the olden time, that a human being is a child of God, no matter how mature or immature he may be, whether there is the blush of youth on his cheeks or the snows of old age on his head; that the difference of the development of that

SUITS FOR $390,000 AGAINST WHITE STAR

As Result of the Titanic Disaster

LAPORTE, Ind., June 3.—Damage suits aggregating $390,000 will be filed by Indiana attorneys within a few days against the White Star Line Steamship company for deaths occurring in the Titanic disaster.

The suits, which are to be started at the instance of Bulgarian and Russian authorities in this country, will be in charge of Paul Glazer of Gary, Ind., and some of them will be filed in Indiana and others in Chicago courts. The reason for distributing the cases is for the purpose of quicker action.

The Russian and Bulgarian consuls in Chicago have 39 people for whom suits will be brought, in each case the damage asked will be $10,000. One of the points for the plaintiffs will be the insufficiency of the life saving devices with which the ship was equipped.

The company is preparing to fight all cases where bodies have not been recovered on the ground that there is no absolute proof of death.

ARRANGEMENTS ARE MADE FOR REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

The Big Coliseum in Chicago Has a Seating Capacity of

CHICAGO, June 3.—For the third time since its erection, 13 years ago, the doors of the Coliseum will be thrown open June 18 for the accommodation of a republican national convention. In 1901 the republican nominated Col. Theodore Roosevelt for president in this building and in 1908 under the same roof William H. Taft was chosen as the party's standard bearer.

The coliseum is an Wabash avenue between 15th and 16th streets, less than a mile from the center of Chicago's retail shopping and hotel district and is accessible from all parts of the city by elevated roads and surface lines. The coliseum is 305 feet long, 170 feet wide and 70 feet in height, built of stone, brick, steel and concrete and is fireproof.

It stands on the site of the old Libby's store which was brought to Chicago from Richmond, Va., in sections and rebuilt the year of the world's fair by Charles F. Gunther and used to exhibit a valuable collection of Civil war relics. It is of modern Romanesque combined with the English Castellated type of architecture and cost $500,000. It has been the scene of many notable assemblages. It has 11 large exits and can be emptied in five minutes in an emergency.

The sub-committee on arrangements of the republican national committee under the direction of Col. Harry S. New has expended $40,000 preparing the building for this year's national convention of the republican party. The building has 11,188 seats of which 7888 are on the main floor and 3200 in the balcony.

The speaker's platform is built against the south wall of the structure and extends across the entire width of the building. It is 75 feet deep and contains 1932 seats, which will be occupied by the chairman, officers of the convention, members of the national committee and distinguished guests.

The seats back of the chairman's table will be slightly elevated. Directly beneath the chairman's table is a space for four noiseless telegraph instruments and their operators, by which news of the convention's proceedings will be flashed to the world. On both sides and extending in a half circle around the front of the platform are seats and tables for 400 working newspaper men and correspondents from all parts of the country.

Directly in front of these are the seats for the 1078 delegates arranged by states. This space will be enclosed by a railing and closely guarded by a large force of sergeants-at-arms. Back of this are the seats for the alternates, enclosed by a railing. On both sides and in the rear of the space occupied by the delegates and alternates are 3500 elevated seats for visitors. At the north end of the building a special bandstand will be erected. In the balcony, which extends around the four walls of the building, there will be 3200 seats for visitors.

To avoid confusion in seating the crowd each entrance will be placarded showing the sections for which it will be used and each ticket will bear the letter of the entrance for which it is intended. By this plan delegates and visitors will enter the door nearest the seats assigned them.

The platform, aisles and all open spaces will be covered with matting to insure the maximum of quiet while the convention is in session. Five hundred public telephones and a large number of telegraph instruments are being installed in various parts of the building for the accommodation of delegates and the public. Architect Arthur C. Brown has arranged the seats in such a manner that the chairman's platform may be seen from every section of the large hall. Sergeant-at-arms William F. Stone will be assisted by a force of 800 deputy sergeants-at-arms, doorkeepers, ushers and attendants. A special telephone system is being installed which will enable Sergeant-at-Arms Stone, from his desk on the platform, immediately to communicate with his assistants in any part of the hall.

In the two story annex, adjoining the main building on the south, are the offices of the republican national committee private rooms for the use of the chairman, secretaries and sergeant-at-arms, quarters for the committees on permanent organization, credentials and resolutions, and a fully equipped post office.

In addition to this, there are rooms for the press where scores of private telegraph wires will be installed. On the second floor there will be a fully equipped emergency hospital in charge of a corps of physicians and Red Cross nurses. There will be numerous waiting rooms for men and women in the annex.

In the basement of the main building there will be a lunch counter with several thousand seats. The building will be elaborately decorated in the national colors. The exterior of the structure will be profusely draped with red, white and blue bunting surmounted by hundreds of large American flags.

Practically every foot of available space of the interior will be draped with bunting and flags. Over the speaker's platform there will be a 50 foot president's flag flanked by two large American flags. The space on both sides of this center piece will be heavily draped with festoons of bunting and batteries of small flags and shields. The walls of the building will be draped with bunting and flags. The rail of the balcony also will be draped with festoons of bunting with small flags, shields and wreaths at every steel arch. The large bandstand at the north end of the building will be elaborately draped with flags, bunting and wreaths.

DRY COLD STORAGE
FOR
FUR AND CLOTHING

The care of valuable furs during the summer months is a source of much anxiety. Moth balls, paper bags, cedar chests, may keep moths away, but they won't destroy moth eggs or worms already in the fur, prevent fires or frighten burglars.

Our modern dry cold storage methods absolutely secure furs and clothing against all losses during the summer.

Don't let others store your furs in closets and rooms lined with tar paper, but bring them to us and we will put them in cold storage for the summer.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Observed by Capt. and Mrs. Thompson

Capt. and Mrs. J. B. Thompson celebrated the 55th anniversary of their marriage yesterday in an informal manner at their home, 110 Appleton street. During the afternoon and evening scores of friends of the happy couple called to offer congratulations.

Capt. Thompson has a war record which any veteran might well be proud of. At the battle of Fair Oaks he was up in a tree reconnoitering for the regiment when a cannon ball struck the tree, snapping it off near the base and he fell a distance of 25 feet to the ground. He was temporarily stunned by the fall and for several months afterwards was unable to perform his duties, but in the summer of 1882 he began to suffer from the fall and came back to this city on a furlough. He returned to the army again but subsequently had to resign his commission because of physical disability.

Capt. Thompson was born in Newport, N. H. in 1831. At the age of eight his parents being dead, he had to look out for himself. After working on farms in New Hampshire for several years he went to Lawrence and learned the trade of a millwright. There he married Mrs. Thompson in 1854 and five years later they moved to Lowell, where they have resided ever since.

POLICE FOOLED

THEY ANSWERED HURRY CALL THAT LED THEM TO CEMETERY

CHICAGO, June 3.—"Send police and doctors quick as you can, there are a lot of people dead at 4846 Southport avenue." This was the startling message received over the telephone by Sergt. Buckley at the Sheffield avenue police station.

The sergeant immediately ordered out the reserves and ambulance corps and summoned several doctors and private ambulances in addition to the regular police medical department. It was a long run of 31 blocks. The trip was made on record time with gongs ringing, the heavily loaded wagons dashed down Diversy boulevard. Street cars were held at crossings so as not to block the wild flight of the rescuers. The doctors and nurses in the carrying wagons were preparing bandages and assisting their instruments.

Finally the procession turned into Southport avenue. The drivers looked at the number on the corner of a high brick wall which runs for many blocks. It was 4846, and the beginning of Graceland cemetery.

SPECIAL SERVICES HELD IN CATHOLIC CHURCHES

Trinity Sunday Was Observed—Forty Hours' Devotion Closed

Yesterday in all the Catholic churches, Trinity Sunday, marking the close of the paschal season, was observed. As yesterday was the close of the season for Catholics to comply with the church regulation of making the Easter duty large numbers of communicants were present at all masses. In St. Patrick's church first communion was given to a large number of children. At the Immaculate Conception, the closing services of the Forty hours' devotion were held. The "Holy Hour" services at St. Peter's will be held one week later this month.

St. Patrick's
Several hundred children, the girls attired in white dresses and the boys in dark suits, approached the altar railing at the 7 o'clock mass at St. Patrick's church yesterday and received their first communion. The mass was sung by Right Rev. William O'Brien, P. R. and he was assisted by Rev. Joseph Cortin.

On Wednesday, Bishop Anderson will come to Lowell and administer the sacrament of confirmation to a number of children at St. Patrick's.

The high mass at 11 o'clock was celebrated by Rev. Timothy Callahan and Fr. Cortin preached the sermon and read the announcements.

St. Peter's
Rev. W. George Mullin celebrated high mass at St. Peter's church yesterday and the sermon on the significance of the day, the feast of the Holy Trinity, was delivered by Rev. Daniel J. Kellher, Ph. D.

The "Holy Hour" services this month will be held one week from next Friday evening on account of the novena in honor of the Sacred Heart which opens on Thursday evening, coming to a close on Friday evening, June 14th. The Immaculate Conception Sodality will hold a meeting on Friday evening, June 7th.

Immaculate Conception
At the 11 o'clock mass at the Immaculate Conception church yesterday the services of the Forty Hours, which opened at the church Friday morning were brought to a close with impressive ceremonies. The church itself was beautifully decorated for the occasion, particularly the sanctuary. Solemn high mass was sung, with Rev. John C. Duffy, O. M. I., celebrant and Rev. Edward Fox, O. M. I., deacon, and Rev. Brother McCarroll, O. M. I., sub-deacon. There was a procession in which the children who last week received first communion participated and the officers of the mass, the sanctuary choir members and the altar boys were also in line. During the procession the "Thorn Litany" was sung. Benediction of the blessed sacrament brought the services to a close.

On next Sunday at the 7:30 o'clock mass the children who recently received first communion will approach the altar for the second time and in the evening they will take part in the Corpus Christi procession.

Sacred Heart Church
The members of the Holy Rosary sodality received communion at the 7:30 o'clock mass yesterday, which was celebrated by Rev. Bernard Fletcher, O. M. I., spiritual director of the organization. Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., preached at the high mass at 10:30, taking as his subject the feast of the Holy Trinity.

MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD BY M. U. ODD FELLOWS

Members of the Four Local Lodges Attended Elliot
Church

Manchester Unity lodges of Odd Fellows paid tribute to their departed members by holding a memorial service at the Elliot Congregational church yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance, and a feature of the service was a history of the founding of the order which was prepared and delivered by Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, the pastor of the church.

The services opened at 3 o'clock, a section of the church being reserved for the members of the four local lodges of the order. A male chorus made up of members sang "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," to the old English tune of "Dixie," a particularly inspiring number. Rev. M. S. Lytle, pastor of St. Paul's M. E. church, gave the prayer, and a double male quartet sang "Remember Me, O Mighty!" The reading of the scripture was by Rev. Mr. Lytle, following which Fred M. Silk sang "Face to Face." Then came the roll call of the dead, six brothers having died this past year. "Nearer My God, to Thee" was sung by the congregation. The address of Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, pastor of the church, followed. He said in part:

"One hundred years ago a seed of human good sprouted in Manchester, England, and it has been growing into a great tree, bearing abundant fruit in many lands of the earth. The Manchester Unity of Odd Fellowship has come to include over 1,000,000 persons in all parts of the English-speaking world, and its substance has grown into a treasury balance of more than $75,000,000, making it the richest friendly society ever known to exist.

"To account for this most successful rise of the order one must look to the principles of it and to the personal traits of its members. Common English manhood forms the bulk of the society, imbued with the spirit of adventure which crosses seas, settling new homes in all lands. And yet that manhood possesses a strong sense of loyalty, retaining a fondness for the old homeland, cherishing fellowship that binds all distant brothers back to the ancestral home. One of its principal benefits arises from the custom of assisting those who need help during sickness or when death visits members. This appeals especially to the spirit of the English.

"The constitution is founded upon the cardinal principles of all social existence. The value of this ideal will justify further study and admiration. The name, Manchester Unity of Odd Fellows, is an intellectual puzzle.

What can be meant by a unity of odd fellows? We must accept it to mean a departure from the conventions of life, to resist every restraint of classification. It is a declaration of independence. And to be proud of it means a defiance of dissent, as Matthew Arnold once said: 'What is it? The actual origin of the name is lost in obscurity. I like to think it must have been used to express a strange habit of breaking from the common habit of self regard, for too often the common law of life is every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost.' It was very natural to call men odd fellows who departed from this practice. A separation from the ordinary custom is the oddity which leads men to the higher union of brotherhood, which overreaches all of the enmities of men, and is the ideal of this order. Particularly successful has the Manchester Unity been in uniting the members of the order all over the world. Superior business genius has welded all of the lodges together, holding them to the parent lodge in Manchester.

"The cardinal principles are friendship, love and truth. Friendship is the invisible tie which binds men together for helpful service. It helps the weak, holds them up, and helps the unfortunate forward. It calls into use another more vital virtue, love, which rises from the heart of man. Truth, ties together brothers, not only in mutual loyalty, but also attaches them to principles of sincere and honest living, which are in the constitution of life itself. Eventually it attaches men to the father of all truth, who is the centre of the universe.

"Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" was sung by the double quartet, and then came the salutation in silence, a portion of the ceremonial of the order. "Lead, Kindly Light" was sung, and the services closed with the benediction given by Rev. Mr. Lytle.

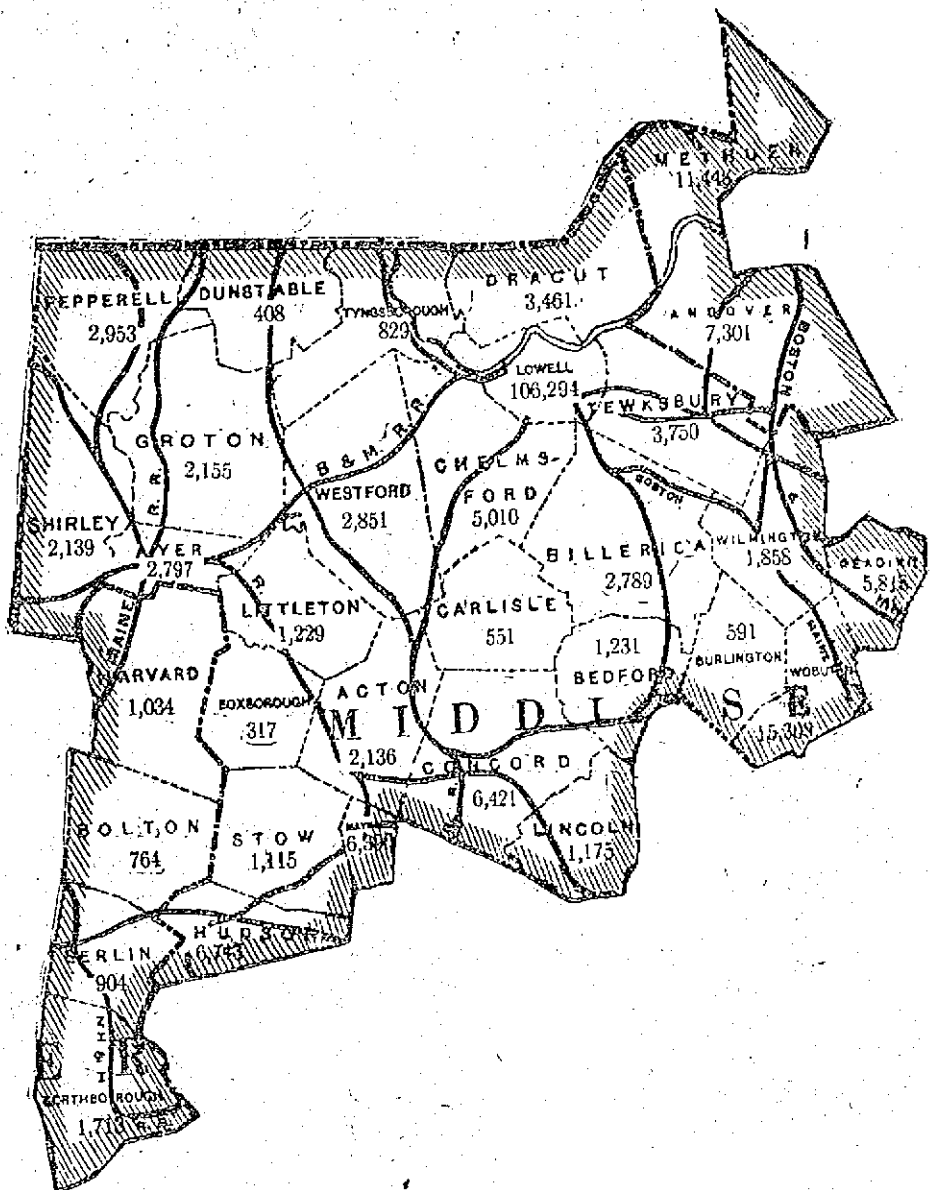

P. G. J. Everett of Warrum lodge was chairman of the exercises. F. M. Silk was secretary of the general committee, and J. Buchanan was treasurer.

'KILLED BY SHELL

FISHERMAN RAKED IT UP WHILE DIGGING QUAHOGS

NEW BEDFORD, June 3.—Manuel Sousa Barao, 26, a fisherman who lived at 59 Cove road, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon by the explosion of a six-pound shell. His brother, John Barao, was wounded in the leg by being struck by a fragment of the shell.

About two months ago Manuel, while after quahogs, raked up the shell and saved it with the intention of selling the metal. Yesterday afternoon Manuel and John were on the beach at Clark's Cove and the former attempted to extract the charge. For a time he used a file, but not making headway fast enough he dashed the shell on the ground. The explosion followed.

BIG ADVANCE IN PRICE OF ALL MEAT PRODUCTS

Cost of Living is Higher This Month Than Ever Before
It is Reported

NEW YORK, June 3.—It costs more to live in this month of June, 1912, than ever before in the history of the United States, except, perhaps, during war times. Prices were high a year ago, but today they are on the average nearly 10 per cent. higher, according to trade authority quotations.

Food products are the highest on record. Meat, eggs, butter, fish, potatoes, coffee, tea, sugar, salt, molasses, rice, beans and peas average 22 per cent. higher. Wheat, corn, oats, barley, flour, etc. 33 per cent. higher. Fruits are the only things good to eat that have grown cheaper during the last 12 months but they are still higher than in 1910. Leather products cost 12 per cent. and chemicals and drugs 13 per cent. more than a year ago. Textile goods, however, are a trifle cheaper to live in this month of June, 1912, than ever before in the history of the United States, except, perhaps, during war times. Prices were high a year ago, but today they are on the average nearly 10 per cent. higher, according to trade authority quotations.

The average increase in food products is nearly 20 per cent., which means that the housewife must pay 36 to fill a market basket that only cost her $5 to fill in June, 1911. In other words $1 will only buy five-sixths as much as it did a year ago.

The biggest advances have been in meat products—beef 26 per cent., hog products 40 per cent. and mutton over 50 per cent. Dealers lay the increase to last year's poor hay crop and the general high cost of animal provender. Poor crops are also held responsible for dearer breadstuffs.

Economists differ as to the reasons for the general upward tendency of all commodities during recent years, which has been world wide.

R. A. Fortier. The young couple were attended by Messrs. George W. Byron and Joseph A. Desrosiers. After the ceremony a pretty reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, 147 Ennelt street, where a number of her friends gathered to congratulate the happy couple over the event. A dainty breakfast was served followed by an elaborate musical program, those taking part being as follows: Miss Alice Pratte, Miss Florence Desrosiers, Miss Margaret Murray and Miss Ouellette. At the mass Miss Alice Pratte rendered in a delightful manner an Ave Maria while Mrs. G. J. David sang a very pretty Vent Creator. The young couple left on the 1.45 o'clock train for a short wedding tour and they will make their home at Ipswich.

AT Y. M. C. A. SUMMERQUARTERS

Fine Program of Sports
Was Carried Out Saturday Afternoon

The formal opening of the summer quarters of the Y. M. C. A. at Washington park, which was briefly reported in Saturday's Sun, attracted a very large crowd and was a grand success. The program of the day was one of the best ever arranged and furnished amusement for all present.

The first feature on the program was a series of exhibition drills by the Boy Scouts, under the direction of Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, and the work of the young soldiers was very interesting and highly appreciated. The presentation of first aid to the injured, under the drill of Dr. Adam Shaw, was very good. At the close of the drill the boys presented Dr. Shaw a beautiful silk umbrella as a token of their appreciation for the work that he has put in in training them for their exhibitions. The boys from No. Chelmsford gave an exhibition of tent raising to the delight of all. They raised a 10 by 12 tent, pegged and all in 2 minutes and 30 seconds. Clarence Bacon of the North Chelmsford troop won an interference race.

Roland Pihl and William Atwood gave an interesting aeroplane exhibition. Both were toy machines. The former flew his "bird" a distance of 20 feet, while Atwood made his go 54 feet. A biplane by Pihl flew a distance of 15 feet. Atwood's monoplane went 25 feet. Atwood was awarded the prize for a watch for, for making the best distance.

The athletic events showed some very interesting contests.

The running broad jump was won by Pontieras, distance 20 feet, three inches; Knight, second; Mochrie, third.

100 yards dash—Won by Knight; Co-burn, second; Taylor, third.

Running high jump—Won by James Muller, height 5 feet 7 inches; Tee-sun, second; Knight and Enlund, third.

Newsboys' race—Won by Gallagher; Dutton, second; Thompson, third.

One-half mile run—Won by Cook; Taylor, second; Mochrie, third.

Marathon run from Chelmsford Centre—Won by Flory; Stirk, second; O'Neil, third.

The baseball game between the Y. M. C. A. Independents and the Lowell Bleachers team was won by the former by a score of 5 to 5. Up to the last inning it looked as though the Bleachers team would pull off a victory, but a home run drive in the ninth with three men on bases, clinched the game for the Y. M. C. A.

An exhibition of horizontal bar work by Messrs. Mochrie, Maxwell, Hilo and Haisfield and under the supervision of

PRES. F. A. BOWEN,
Who Presented the Prizes.

Physical Instructor A. J. Wicke, was given and a company of the local militia, commanded by Capt. Walter Jeyes, gave an exhibition drill. During the afternoon and evening the Middlesex County Truant school band provided music.

In the evening a most enjoyable vaudeville entertainment was given, which concluded with a wrestling match between Calvary and Cunningham, and later a talk on wrestling was given by Police Officer Matt McCann.

The Bungling Brothers, Messrs. Muzzey, Pearson and Barton, gave a clever exhibition of tumbling, and then followed the presentation of the prizes to the winners of the contests at the South common on May 30. President F. A. Bowen made the presentations and the winners were applauded as they accepted the prizes.

Martin Fishery and Theodore Pearson gave a boxing exhibition.

The affair was in charge of Dr. D. E. Yarnell, T. R. Williams and A. J. Wicke. The track and athletic events were in charge of John Daly and Hugh Rooney and the Boy Scout exhibitions were looked after by Rev. E. Victor Bigelow and James Kibberd.

Walter Jeyes and Serret Waller had charge of the military exhibition and the refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Frank Spaulding, chairman; Mrs. F. A. Bowen, Mrs. Cyrus Barton, Mrs. D. E. Yarnell, Mrs. Hattie Kew, Mrs. Steven Hands, Mrs. C. G. Anderson, Mrs. Fred Duncan, Mrs. Amos Kendall, Mrs. Elsie Sanders and Miss Belle Smith.

The South End Baseball Team
Making Fine Record on Diamond

While Lowell has a preponderance of good amateur ball teams, there is one, the South End, that has established a remarkable record so far this season. The team has lined up against some of the strongest in the city and has yet to be defeated. In all its games the team has played very fast, and despite their small size are good stickers. The team is composed of young men who hail from the vicinity of the South common, and this fact may attribute to their cleverness. Inasmuch as the members indulge in considerable practice on the diamond laid out on the common.

To date the team has taken part in six games. On Memorial day they met the Manhattan on the Bunting cricket club grounds and the game was stopped in the third inning with the boys from Ward Four in the lead. On Saturday the team lined up against the Granitovilles and the city boys proved too much for their country friends and won by the score of 5 to 4. In all the other games, the boys showed up strong and the team is now ready to meet any team in the city.

Pete McGreavy, the catcher, is without doubt one of the best amateur backstops in Lowell. He is a valuable man behind the bat and is especially strong with men on bases. He is a good peger and an excellent coacher. At the bat he is a wonder and his timely hits have been responsible for several of the victories. He is a great acquisition to the team and is a man who looks like a corner.

In the box the team is exceptionally strong, having two star slab artists. Devin, the first string man, though still very young, has the earmarks of a good one. He possesses a lot of speed and has a good assortment of curves and a fine head. In the game against the Manhattan Memorial day, the latter had three men on bases with none out and he retired the side without scoring. Fahy, the other pitcher, is a good man and is very strong as a fielder. His regular position is third base and he is among the stars of the city on the hot corner. The team is captained by "Chickie" Dowd, who is well acquainted with all angles of the game, and Walter Lyons as manager is a good man in the position. He is very strong on the coach line and in an exciting period is a regular Hugh Jennings. The other members of the team are Breen, shortstop, Grady, first base, Lyons, centre field, Sweeney, right field, Gallagher, second base.

Brooklyn and the Oregon that were pursuing her, but as she did this she was struck by a shell from one of the vessels, and hauling her colors down, she was beached at Acerradero. The colon, the last of the ships, was then making toward the Toquino river. Schley signaled the Oregon, under the command of Clark, to try his 13-inch guns upon her, and with the combined fire of the Brooklyn and the Oregon upon the ship, and with no possible chance of escape, and with her human cargo doomed to certain death if the fighting continued, her commander ran the ship ashore at the mouth of the Toquino river, fired his leeward gun, lowered his flag, and the colors of Spain were down before the colors of the Union upon the Western continent.

"There is another charge that Schley had to meet that I desire briefly to refer to, and that was that in the conduct of the fleet along the Cuban coast he had disobeyed orders of the navy department. This was not the first time that Schley in his military career had found it necessary to disobey the orders of his superior officers. During the Civil war, at the siege of Port Hudson, when he was in charge of the Morongahela, the signal was raised upon Farragut's vessel to retreat. The quartermaster reported to Schley that it was impossible for him to see the signals. The order had been previously given to storm the battery. This was the signal that Schley saw, and instead of retreating he leveled his guns against the fortifications. He was reprimanded by Farragut, but afterwards the admiral called him into his private cabin and congratulated him.

"The time has passed when secretaries of war or secretaries of the navy who have never perhaps observed any military tactics except a dress parade and who could hardly tell the difference between a revenue cutter and a battleship can fight battles with lead pencils and rulers and India rubber thousands of miles away from home.

"And now, all of these transactions have closed and Schley is gone. He delivered his country as great a victory as she ever gained upon the sea and she accepted it with ingratitude. The greatest struggle he ever passed through was not amid the shot and shell at Santiago; it was when the shafts of malice and hatred were leveled at his breast, but he stood with head erect."

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Senator Rayner, of Maryland, told the senate today that the famous order for what is known as the loop of the cruiser Brooklyn in the battle of Santiago, given upon the spur of the moment and in the heat of battle, decided that conflict had saved the day for American arms. Senator Rayner sought to make this point clear in a speech accompanying an amendment which he offered to the pension appropriation bill so as to provide a pension of $150 a month to the widow of Admiral Schley. Senator Rayner said that the government is now paying nearly $200,000 a year in pensions. He said that Admiral Schley's widow was in dire need of pension and lacked even the means for erecting a suitable memorial on the admiral's grave. Mr. Rayner excoriated critics, saying that a critic generally is a person without reputation who expects to rise in public estimation upon the ruins of those whom he attempts to humiliate. He said that Admiral Schley was universally idolized and challenged the admiral's enemies to point to a single instance where he ever wavered when duty summoned him. Senator Rayner said Schley was surrounded at Santiago by a band of heroic captains. Referring to the Brooklyn's loop as saving the day at Santiago, he said:

THE LICENSE COMMISSION DISCUSSED JOYCE LICENSE City Solicitor to Advise Board as to What Should be Done

The license commission, Commissioner Charles H. Hanson being absent, met in special session this morning relative to what should be done with the first and fourth class liquor licenses of The Chas. H. Joyce Co. in Central and Middle streets.

As previously published in the columns of this paper several days ago, the Joyce Co. assigned to Hon. John E. Drury for the benefit of its creditors, and the company was conducting the business but turning the money received over to Mr. Drury.

Lawyer Thomas J. Enright, who represents the Joyce Co., appeared before the commission this morning and announced that the company had been forced into bankruptcy and that in all probability a trustee would be appointed by the court Monday.

City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessy was also present and for about half an hour the law relative to the conducting of business by the company was discussed. Prior to the close of the meeting the city solicitor said he would give out an opinion relative to what he thought should be done by the commissioners.

AUTO DESTROYED AFTER JOY RIDE Men Injured When Machine Struck Curbing

BOSTON, June 3.—An automobile containing three young men who, the police assert, were joy riding, struck the curbing of North Circle, near the Point of Pines, early yesterday morning and upset. The car, which was speeding nearly 70 miles an hour, hurtled through the air and landed upside down in the middle of the grass plot. The three occupants, who had a remarkable escape from death, were thrown into rose bushes and escaped with a few cuts and bruises.

While the metropolitan police were searching for the occupants of the upset automobile, who had been taken to a doctor, another automobile came along and the occupants stole the tools, magneto and several other parts of the overturned machine. In their search under the machine they lighted matches and set fire to the cushions and woodwork, which were soaked with gasoline that had escaped from the burst tank. The disabled and looted car was destroyed by the fire.

The automobile was owned by Joseph E. Doherty, a member of the Cambridge water board, who is in Bangor on business. His chauffeur, George Hutchinson, 20 years old, of 33 Canard street, Cambridge, took the car out Saturday evening and invited William W. Reed, 20, of Florence street, Charles E. Hayden, 23, of Leonard avenue, both of Cambridge, for a ride. The machine, a new one, was valued at $1,000.

STATE HIGHWAYS BILL Has Been Signed by Governor Foss

BOSTON, June 3.—The bill appropriating $5,000,000 for the construction of state highways was signed by Gov. Foss today. The bill provides that not more than one million dollars shall be spent in any year between 1912 and 1917.

The governor also signed the bill to regulate the practice of optometry. Under the provisions of the bill the governor will appoint a board of five optometrists who shall act as registrars of optometry and after Oct. 1 next no person shall practice optometry in Massachusetts who has not passed the examination conducted by the new board.

DR. HARVEY WILEY HAS OFFER OF MAYOR FITZGERALD UNDER CONSIDERATION

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Dr. Harvey Wiley, former chief of the United States bureau of chemistry, who has been offered a position as chairman of the Boston board of health, will not give his answer until he has consulted with the heads of the bureau and the magnitude of which he is a contributing factor to learn if they would object to his accepting the Boston place. It probably will be the latter part of the week before he gives his answer to Boston's offer.

49 APPLICANTS

Forty-nine applicants representing several nationalities were given their final naturalization papers this morning at a session held at the court house in Gorham street. Judge Keating of Boston, who was recently appointed to the bench by Gov. Foss, presided, while Assistant District Attorney Farrell also of Boston, asked the usual questions. There was a very large attendance present.

THE KASINO

That the Kasino has scored a great hit with Lowell's dancing population is evident from the crowds that have daily attended the sessions. The first week's business exceeded all expectations, for there is every incentive for large crowds—good music, a first class dancing surface, ample room, convenient location and last, but not least, the coolest spot in Lowell.

While the price for dancing is but five cents a ticket, patrons may rest assured that only refined, wholesome dancing is permitted. Women and children are especially invited to make the Kasino, and every possible attention for their comfort will be given. Dancing sessions are at 2 in the afternoon, and at 7.45 o'clock in the evening.

SHOTS FIRED AT CLINTON POLICE AND STRIKERS CLASH SEVERAL INJURED DURING TROUBLE

CLINTON, June 3.—Seven persons, including two women, were wounded during a battle between the police and a band of striking Lancaster mill weavers here today. The police were compelled to use their revolvers, while the strikers hurled bricks and stones at the officers. One man, a Greek, whose name is not known, is seriously injured and his wounds may prove fatal. In the opinion of the attending physician, the battle-ground was the yard of the Roman Catholic church of Our Lady of the Rosary on Cameron street and the conflict was precipitated by an alleged attempt on the part of the strike picket to prevent a woman returning to work at the mills. Strikers who took part in the affray were principally Greeks and Germans. It is alleged that a Greek striker interfered with a woman on her way to work. The woman's husband brought a policeman to her assistance but the officer was roughly handled by a crowd of strikers. A large band of police was rushed to the scene.

The strikers took up a position on the top of a slope in the church yard and maintained a continuous bombardment with bricks and stones. Their aim generally was good and many an officer was painfully hurt. The officers charged up the hill twice but each time were driven back by a shower of stones. Finally the police drew their revolvers and fired a volley into the air but this demonstration did not appear to alarm the strikers. Then the officers leveled their weapons at the strikers and charged up the hill a third time, a few shots being fired on the way.

This movement was successful and the weavers were driven through the church grounds to Oak street and thence to the further side of what is known as the Acme district. As the police retraced their steps through the church yard they came upon the prostrate figure of a Greek weaver who had been shot in the leg.

FEARING AN ATTACK PEOPLE LEAVE TOWN

Rebels to Make Stand at Bachumba

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, June 3.—Out of a normal foreign population of at least 2,000 this city contains exactly 105 foreign residents today. Of the 1000 Americans who ordinarily live here only 50 men and 12 women remain.

An official census issued today shows that fear of an attack on the rebel city by the advancing federalists has practically depopulated the town. Thirty thousand people inhabit Chihuahua in time of peace, but today less than 25,000 are here and the exodus is daily growing larger. Besides the Americans there are 26 British subjects and 33 Germans.

Though an attack by the main federal column under General Huerta is believed to be several days off the possibility of a flank movement by Chihuahua with federal cavalry has alarmed the population. Present plans of the rebel leaders called for a stand at Bachumba, 16 miles south of here in the mountain passes along the Mexican Central railroad. It is believed that government troops will not be able for some time to reconstruct the burned bridges to transport the artillery and the rebels hope through the hill to get enough ammunition to give the federalists a battle at Bachumba.

There is little ammunition in the rebel army today but the rebel leaders claim they are getting supplies rapidly and will be well equipped when the fighting is resumed.

THE LORIMER CASE WILL COME UP IN THE SENATE TOMORROW

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The fight over Senator Lorimer's election will come up in the senate tomorrow when Senator Kern, leading the forces which seek to unseat the Illinois senator will make the first speech in what promises to be at least a two weeks' debate.

The majority of the members of the investigating committee have reported that the charge that Mr. Lorimer's election was brought about by bribery and corruption has not been proved. Senator Dillingham, chairman of the committee, will lead the defense and support the contention that the senate having once exonerated him cannot try him again on practically the same charges. Senator Lorimer arrived here from Chicago. He declined to answer directly when asked if he had any intention of resigning and when asked about the reported plot of the senate which is said to be against him, replied he knew nothing of it. The senator said he expected to speak in his defense.

THE QUARTERLY MEETING OF UNION ST. JEAN BAPTISTE D'AMERIQUE

Of Union St. Jean Baptiste D'Amérique

The quarterly meeting of District No. 5, Union St. Jean Baptiste D'Amérique, was held yesterday in South Lawrence under the auspices of Samuel de Champlain council. The affair was attended by delegates from Lowell, Lawrence, South Lawrence, Haverhill, Newburyport, Amesbury, Salem, Lynn, Ipswich and Andover. The principal business to come before the meeting was the reorganization of the council as ordered by the general board of officers of the union. Preceding the convention there was a parade followed by a high mass at Sacre-Coeur church, South Lawrence, and a dinner for all the delegates.

The delegates which included the following from Lowell assembled at Franco-American hall at the corner of Broadway and Lowell street, Lawrence, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon: J. N. Jacques, council, Adolphe Bouchard, Pierre A. Brousseau, Joseph A. N. Chretien, Hector McDonald, Pierre C. Gagnon, Carillon council, Joseph F. Montminy, Laval council, J. B. Boudreau.

At 10.30 o'clock the line of parade was formed headed by St. Cecile's band of South Lawrence and Guards Laurier and Hussards (auxiliaries of Lawrence) in command of Major Eugene Duchesneau of the first battalion of the French American Volunteer Brigade of New England. Then came the members of Chénier council and Samuel de Champlain council of Lawrence and South Lawrence, respectively. The rear of the parade was composed of all the delegates. The march was up Broadway as far as the church where high mass was celebrated at 11 o'clock by the pastor of the parish, Rev. Eudene Vinas, S. M., who also delivered an appropriate sermon. In the course of his sermon Fr. Vinas urged the Catholics to join Catholic societies and he referred to the I. W. W. saying a person could not be a Catholic and be a member of the latter organization. He spoke at length on this labor union and told the members of his parish to keep away from such an organization.

HARRIMAN A WITNESS AT DARROW TRIAL

Franklin to be Asked About Money Received

LOS ANGELES, June 3.—Various sums of money received by Bart Franklin while engaged as a detective for the McNamara defense were expected to be inquired into when the trial of Clarence S. Darrow, accused of jury bribing, was resumed this afternoon after a two days' recess.

Chief Counsel Earl Rogers began the cross examination of Franklin late Friday afternoon and had questioned the witness as to several amounts received by him from the McNamara defense attorneys when adjournment came.

It was stated today that the subpoenas for John Harriman and Leconte Davis were issued at the request of the district attorney about three weeks ago. Harriman had been in Chicago for several weeks and through a strange coincidence he was present in court for the first time on Friday when Franklin brought his name into the story of the alleged bribery of George N. Lockwood. A few minutes afterward he was served with subpoena to appear as a witness for the state.

FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

TEMPLETON, June 3.—Delegates from all over Massachusetts began to arrive here today for the annual meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's clubs. Tonight the delegates will be entertained at a reception with the Wellington club officers, hostesses to the visiting club women, in charge of the affair.

The regular session will be opened tomorrow with an address by Mrs. Carle Manning of Templeton and remarks by the state president, Mrs. Henry Coddie Mulligan. Reports of officers and committees will be heard.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

Trinity Sunday was observed in St. John's church yesterday. The masses were celebrated by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Schofield. At 9.30 a high mass was sung which opened the forty hours' devotion, and 12 girls and 25 boys received their first holy communion. The children were in charge of Sister Mary Amy and Sister Juliana of Notre Dame Academy, who have charge of the Sunday school. Sister Superior of the convent was also present. Rev. Fr. Schofield spoke to the children of the importance of the occasion and also asked them to remember in their prayers the souls of those who have died. He urged their time in preparing them for the holy sacrament, to also remember their good parents, and the day they received their first communion as the most happy day of their lives.

Blaise's mass was sung by the choir. The members of the Choral society made their first public appearance and showed that they accomplished good work in a short time under the direction of James A. Murphy. The solos of the mass were taken by Misses Clara May, Catherine Quigley, and Mrs. George O'Neil.

Miss Quigley presided at the organ. At the conclusion of the mass a procession in honor of the forty hours' devotion took place, all the children taking part. The procession was made up of the children, with Leo McEneaney as cross bearer, followed by the boys and girls of the Sunday school, first communion boys and girls, followed by the flower strewers, who were beautiful wreaths and red sashes. The leader was Julia Sweeney, and her companions were Ruth Monahan, Florence Welch, Stella Maloney, Helen Quigley, Mary Finnegan, and Mary Welch; candle bearers, James Daley and John Valentine, censor bearer, John Sweeney, followed by Rev. Fr. Schofield carrying the blessed sacrament. During the procession the choir sang "Gloria in excelsis" and "Te igitur" at which the blessed sacrament was exposed. The church was visited by many worshippers during the day.

THE SHAW TRIAL

TAKING OF TESTIMONY WAS BEGUN THIS MORNING

BOSTON, June 3.—The taking of testimony was begun today at the trial of Arthur Willis Shaw, charged with larceny of funds of the Cumberland Shoe Co. and the A. W. Shaw Boot & Shoe Co., both of Freeport, Me. Mrs. Georgia M. Stuart of this city is also on trial, charged with aiding and abetting in the larceny. The special grand jury named $15,000 from the Cumberland and $4900 from the A. W. Shaw company, of which Shaw was manager.

In opening the case for the government Assistant District Attorney Lavelle said that while Shaw was manager and the funds were in his possession it was shown that he stole the funds for himself. He would be warranted in finding him guilty through a breach of trust.

Mr. Lavelle said that after failing on Jan. 20th last to secure a loan from the First National bank of Boston Shaw took money from both corporations, bought bonds and turned them over to Mrs. Stuart.

According to Mr. Lavelle, Shaw led one kind of a life in Freeport, Me., and another in Boston. The first witnesses were two officers of the First National bank.

GOV. FOSS PRESENTS NEW PUBLIC UTILITIES BILL TO LEGISLATURE

BOSTON, June 3.—The controversy between Gov. Foss and the legislature over the transportation problem was less acute today through the submission by the governor of a bill which the leaders of the two branches admitted was partially acceptable.

In his latest proposition the governor relinquishes his plans for a complete utilities commission and states that he will be content to have the powers and the membership of the present railroad commission increased. He proposes to change the name to the public transportation commission to make it board of five men and to place under its supervision highways and telephone and telegraph companies. The legislative leaders hoped to have been able to obtain prorogation by Wednesday but today they admitted that the final adjournment would not come before the last of the week or perhaps until next week.

THE CITY PLANNING CONFERENCE

Boston has recently listened to a conference of very wise men on city planning. It seems rather ironical that such a conference should be held in the one city of America which shows the least mark of original design. But perhaps the conferees came to the conclusion that Boston above all other cities needs their advice. The streets of Boston are disgracefully narrow and crooked; but then the beautifiers say that beauty consists largely in graceful curves. These curves some of the streets undoubtedly have; but more of them abound in elbow joints and angles of every description. Yet at the present day with much of Boston's beauty in her subways, the city is one of the most advanced in the world, not only in regard to its streets but its buildings, its transit system and its magnificent public parks.

The city planners cast out many hints that would benefit Lowell in regard to streets, highways and architecture. The policy of having all new streets conform to a definite plan and having them wide and easy of access is very important. We have too many blind ends or cul de sacs, so to speak. Had these been prevented in the original plan we should now have no such problem as the extension of Dummer and other streets through which an outlet is demanded as a matter of public convenience.

It is important also to have the city studded with public breathing places or small parks that can be beautified and thus prevent the crowding of buildings without the relief of an occasional open space to be kept as a public park, with trees, flowers and if necessary fountains. Public playgrounds, public baths, public promenades are all requisites of a modern city if the people are to be drawn away from the congested districts to enjoy innocent and health-giving recreation.

AGAIN IN LAWRENCE

Lawrence is having another strike, this time in the Wood mills. The cause of the strike, we understand, is some difference among the operatives, one set refusing to work with another that declined to join the I. W. W. The agitators of the latter organization are at the bottom of the affair apparently and doubtless are determined to make Lawrence their stronghold in this country, San Diego, Cal., being now under the strict enforcement of the "move on" ordinance. The pioneers in the social revolution feel that they are gaining ground whenever they are able to kick up trouble on any pretext. If they have no excuse for striking on charges against their employers, it's their business to find a cause for trouble among the operatives. Thus the issues with the mill men of Lawrence having been settled, the agitators organize a strike to compel other operatives to join the I. W. W., that this organization may be able to run the mills or shut them down as it pleases. Where is this trouble going to end?

CHAUFFEURS AS HIGHWAYMEN

New York City is liable to have trouble with auto bandits somewhat similar to that experienced by the city of Paris. The police have discovered that a great many thieves and ex-convicts are licensed as chauffeurs and thus gain access to the homes of wealthy men. The police have already organized a taxi squad to deal with these crooks and there is no telling when a clash may come. In the daylight robbery attempted by the aid of a chauffeur the perpetrators were quickly caught so that the gang has found that they will have some difficulty in plying their business in New York.

An important question is thus brought to public attention in the licensing of these men, and it is suggested that the licensing power in such cases should rest in the hands of the police. The police could look up the records of all applicants for licenses and guard against granting ex-convicts, thieves and robbers the right to drive taxis in the public streets.

MONUMENT TO WRIGHT

Claude Grahame-White, the noted English aviator, has shown a fraternal spirit in being the first to come out in favor of a monument to Wilbur Wright who has been the pioneer in navigation of the air just as George Stevenson was the man who first adapted the steam engine to the purposes of locomotion. Wright was well named the Columbus of the air on account of his invention. In actual feats of aviation, however, he did not attempt the dangerous stunts performed by Atwood, Hoxsey and others. But it was Wright's invention that made the most daring exploits in the air possible. Wright will, therefore, be honored as an inventor as are Watt and Stevenson for perfecting the steam engine and as Marconi will be honored as the discoverer of wireless telegraphy.

There is almost as much speculation as to whom the democratic convention will nominate as to what the republicans will do with Roosevelt. The republican convention must decide between Taft and Roosevelt, whereas on the democratic side there are Clarke, Wilson, Underwood, Harmon, Bryan and last but not least, Gov. Foss of Massachusetts. There is much difference of opinion as to which of these candidates would be best to put into the ring with Roosevelt. It will require the exercise of good judgment to select the strongest man.

England has her own troubles with the labor unions. Scarcely had the coal strike been settled when the London dock laborers decided to strike in spite of the fact that they had broken their agreements previously made with their employers. This idea that some craft must always be on strike in order to make an impression is wrong and injurious to all concerned.

The sentence of John A. Maloy, a chauffeur, to from five to seven years for killing two men by reckless driving, should serve as a wholesome lesson to other drivers. There should be more such sentences in cases where people are maimed or killed as the direct result of criminal recklessness in driving automobiles.

Bitter Ames declares himself a candidate for Senator Crane's place against Hon. Curtis Guild. Is he to retire from the congressional contest? That is a question of some interest to the people of the new fifth district.

QUITTING THE GAME

Seen and Heard

A very dear friend takes us to task for "misquoting" in Wednesday's edition when we said that Thomas Gray wrote for his "Elegy in a Country Churchyard" the following stanza:

"There, centered oft, the earliest of the year
By hands unseen, are showers of violets found;
The reddest loves to build and warble there,
And little footsteps lightly print the ground."

We accept with a deal of pleasure the honest criticism of our friend, but on this particular occasion, we are obliged to put one over on him. It is very true that the stanza is not included in the elegy as it appears today, but it was included in some of the first editions between the line "Gray'd on the stone beneath you aged thorn" and the epigraph. It was afterward omitted because the author thought it was too long a parenthesis in this place. The lines, however, are, in themselves, exquisitely fine and demand preservation. This is our explanation to our very dear friend and he will note, too, that we said Gray wrote the stanza "for" his elegy, not "in" it.

Here is another of the rejected stanzas:

"Him have we seen, the Greenwood side along,
While o'er the heath we hied, our labour done,
Of his the woodlark pip'd her farewell song,
With wistful eyes pursue the setting sun."

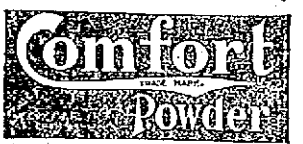

This stanza, in Gray's first manuscript, followed after the verse terminating with the line "To meet the sun upon the upland lawn."

A very great friend of Gray's, speaking of this stanza, said: "I rather wonder that he rejected this stanza, as it not only has the same sort of Doric delicacy, which charms us peculiarly in this part of the poem, but also completes the account of his whole day; whereas, this evening scene being omitted, we have only his morning walk, and his noon-day repose."

Haven't you noticed that you almost never feel that a man is talking too much when he is paying you a compliment?

Some men might really accomplish something if they would only take the time they spend in telling what they have done for doing something else.

THE LITTLE MIRACLES

(Chicago Post)

I hollered for a miracle, I argued loud and long; I put the case before 'em in some statements mighty strong; I said 'twas no use talkin' if miracles was no more, 'twas easy to show me only one!

I walked off mighty proudlike—an' smiled at 'em, perfume That sort o' whispered to me from a lilac bush in bloom.

I set an' made 'em listen, when I'd let 'em have their say; I showed 'em by good logic we are 'avin' in today.

We went alliv' with blossoms, to Jonah, an' Moses an' the rock— There was no claim that they made I wouldn't get an' mock; Then when a Johnny-jump-up laughed at me from the grass I saw my twisted spirit like in a lookin'-glass.

I hollered for a miracle, I dared 'em just to show One miracle like they talked about of long an' long ago; An' then I saw the orchard—last month all dead an' bare An' now a sea o' blossoms that sanctify the air!

Out yonder in the meadow lot 'er dandy, Th' tendrils o' the grapevines reaches out a dozen ways.

I hollered for a miracle. An' right before my eyes Is miracles as wonderful as when the dead arise!

A tree alliv' with blossoms, a vine that shakes its leaves, A swallow that can find its nest again below th' eaves!

I hollered for a miracle—there's one been worked with me, For I was blind, but in a flash 'twas given me to see!

MAN FOUND DEAD

JEREMIE DAUDELIN WAS VICTIM OF APOPLEXY

CHICOPPEE, June 3.—Jeremie Dau-doulin, aged 67, of 173 Main street, Chicopee Falls, was found dead in his bed at 9.10 last evening by neighbors who started a search for him at the request of one of his daughters.

Medical Examiner Gallagher viewed the body and pronounced death due to apoplexy. His youngest daughter, Mary, tried to gain an entrance to the house, knowing he was at home, because of a light in his room, but failing to arouse him, she became alarmed and after an hour's work the door was broken down.

BIG PARADE

TO BE HELD BY BARNUM AND BAILEY CIRCUS

The Barnum and Bailey Greatest Show on Earth will present in Lowell on June 11, the greatest street parade in the history of the American circus. It will be in no way similar to the parades of the past. It is three miles in length. It cost the management $1,000,000.

With the advantage of many years spent in touring all the civilized countries of the world where this circus is as well known as in America, Barnum and Bailey's many agents have been constantly gathering the materials to be used in this year's street spectacle. Remote savage lands have been ransacked. Artists and designers from France and Italy have worked out the designs and ideas. Day and night for two years mechanics and property builders have toiled in foreign workshops, executing these ideas. There has been no regard to the cost.

All strange types of the human family are found in the procession, together with their characteristic costumes, weapons of war, vehicles, idols and music. Rich and fantastic wagons of state, gorgeous fabulous floats, palanquins, richly draped howdahs, rolling thrones, chariots of fire and fairy vans have been made of the most expensive woods, carved by hand labor and burnished with pure gold. The harness is silver mounted. The laces are from Ireland. The silks and satins are from China and Japan. The rugs and tapestries are from Persia and Turkey.

The effect of all this wealth is dazzling. The equipment is more gorgeous by far than anything of its nature exhibited in past seasons. The parade is three times longer than any other. It cost ten times as much money. It is a congress of nations, a horse fair, a musical convention, a zoological garden on wheels, a fairyland carnival and an academy of science, all rolled into one panorama.

A trip to the grounds is like a tour of the world, without the annoyance of sickness. The great sea of canvas spreads out over fourteen acres of ground. In the stables are 700 of the finest horses that money can buy. In the menagerie are 1200 animals. Among them is the only baby giraffe in America. This single exhibit is worth more than the average circus. On the grounds is a dynamo plant, furnishing power for twenty different shops and supplying current for 7000 incandescent lamps, flaring arcs, heat-rays and searchlights.

The best talent of the world has been selected to give the performance under the main tent. There are 400 artists. Among the foremost features are Katie Sandwina, the strongest and most beautiful woman in the world; Mae Wirth, the greatest equestrienne ever seen in America; the Georgetown family of strong-arm jugglers; the Siegfried family of acrobats; a company of Japanese athletes and Jiu Jitsu experts. Winston's trained seals, Bernice's mule and donkey circus, the fifty funniest clowns in the world, Victoria Cadons, the queen of high wire dancers; the Florence, Les-Jardy and Les Deko families of acrobats, and the Lilla family of riders. The performance is worth the $500,000 spectacle of "Cleopatra."

Here is the story of a city chap who got it into his silly little head that chopping and sawing wood are real pleasures in which his rural cousins revels and which he, the city chap, is denied.

Wood chopping in a "forest primeval" or near primeval is a diversion in which I have had at one time or another a desire to indulge, but not having had the opportunity, have contented myself merely reading about the exhilarating exercise and by entertaining the hope that through some lucky chance I might attain the object of my desire.

Like most persons who have passed their lives looking on obsequiously and treacherously, I enjoy reading about life in the woods. In the Outing magazine, a journal which, by the way

Rogers, Peet's Clothes

It is easier to see the effect of the Suit when it's on—than to guess how the cloth will look made up and there's no question either about the fit.

Then the patterns are exclusive—not one of the Rogers, Peet's patterns can be found in other ready for service Suits.

Prices are practically one-half what a good merchant tailor—such as you would go to—will charge.

Tweeds and chevots from Scotland—novel colorings in soft faced woolsens from the best American manufacturers—with blues, grays and serges, English models and straight American ideas, in soft roll, two and three button sacks—

is, I imagine, read with more pleasure by clerks in musty office buildings than by woodsmen themselves. I had read with avidity, about life in the open, about streams, about antelope, about salmon, about campfires, and about the gentle yet invigorating exercise of chopping wood. How I envied the lucky fellows who passed days and weeks and even months in this primitive manner of living.

It may easily be imagined, therefore, with what eagerness and thankfulness I accepted the invitation of a friend to pay him a visit at his camp near Long Search for pond.

While spending a few hours loafing about the camp after my arrival I picked up my ears at the chance remark of Tom, my friend, that he had the previous morning cut down a maple tree nearby and that he contented himself with sawing and splitting it to firewood in a day or so. I asked Tom if the axe and saw were handy and on his replying "yes" requested that I might "take a fall" out of the prostrate tree. Tom, however, appeared to look upon my wood cutting aspirations with some degree of dubiousness. Said he: "It's new to you and, besides, it's harder work than it looks."

At these misgivings, however, I laughed, threw out my chest, and replied: "Preposterous. Why anybody can swing an axe or push a saw. Bring out the tools and I'll show you that I'm a natural born woodsman."

Being handed the axe and saw I began work. First, of course, I snarled my hands to ensure a firm grip; for how could I presume to call myself a thorough woodchopper if I did not at once initiate the preliminary action of all knights of the axe. While thus salivating (euphemistically speaking) the thought entered my mind that I was sadly lacking in one qualification necessary for a "complete woodsman." I do not "chevy." However, I determined that, handicapped though I was, I would give a good account of myself. Then with a graceful swing, or one which I believed so to be, I started in with the chopping of the smaller branches of the fallen maple. These I cut without any exertion to speak of, so easily in fact that I began to chuckle, as I thought of the "doubting Thomases" who had advised me to let the tree alone. After stripping the maple of its smaller branches I began cutting into the more girthy ones. The chopping of these required my putting on more steam but of this I calculated that I had an inexhaustible supply. Battered so with vanity, I backed away at the limbs with might and main and after a good deal of work, which was now becoming laborious, I finally cleared the trunk. "What beautiful scenery about here," I thought—and, to admire it, broke off work for a time. Of course it was the love of a beautiful, not the sensation of fatigue, which impelled me to come to a halt. After I had drunk in all the beauties of nature that were lying about I strolled over to where the saw lay and upon fingering its teeth finally decided that it certainly was sharp enough to rip across the maple. So, taking a firm "kolt" and by placing my left knee on the trunk, striking a most orthodox attitude, I hunched my back and started to saw away. As the tapering end of the trunk was of short diameter the sawing of the several lengths was not very hard work. Then I commenced on the thicker part. It surely was a job. After bending my back to this portion of it for a few minutes I paused to moisten my palms. The weather was hot. Consequently little beads of sweat began to keep company with one another upon my classic brow. However, I sawed away with the perseverance of a braver until the palms of my hands grew warm and then began to burn. I paused again. When I straightened up, ouch! how my back did ache! Invigorating exercise! Ugh! Having rested for a few minutes I took a long, lingering look at the trunk to find out how much deeper it was necessary to cut in order to sever the last section. Eight inches. Again I hunched my back. "Zee, zee, zee, zee, zee, zee," sounded the saw as I pushed it from and drew it to me. "Zee, zee, zee, zee, zee, zee." The sweat, trickling like a mountain rivulet down my nose, pattered onto the trunk so copiously that I thought new leaves would surely begin to sprout. "Zee, zee, zee, zee, zee, zee." A gally slave never suffered as I did with that confounded saw. My arms ached; my back ached; my palms burned. Yes, I even feared catching cold for I seemed to be standing in a puddle formed by a miniature shower of sweat. At last the saw cut through and my "exhilarating" exercise was completed. Tired? Well, I guess, I threw myself on the grass and, after looking ruefully at the collection of logs, said "Never again."
